No. 8

August, 1933

WE presume we may be criticized for getting this number out late . . . but if you could have seen the stacks of mail on our desk when we returned from Chicago . . . and it's a big job to compile the figures and facts on a tournament . . . besides it was vacation time in our plant and there were some figures on the official scoresheets that did not check out just as they should and this has taken time in writing to the Chicago committee . . . but here is the magazine . . . we hope it gives you enough information to get a glimpse of the wonderful tournament at Chicago . . . we may have more to say about the tournament next month . . . there are a lot of state tournaments going on just now . . . watch for all the state tournament stories, too . . . horseshoe history is being made this summer.

FORWARD!

LET the horseshoe pitching fraternity have as its motto, "Forward."

The recent World's Tournament has so stimulated interest in horseshoe pitching in America, as well as other parts of the world, that it now appears that the game will take its rightful place in the realm of sports.

It is up to every individual pitcher to do his or her part. It is up to the manufacturers of equipment for the game to realize that their golden opportunity to increase their business is at hand. It is up to the officers of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association to work harder than ever on an expansive, forward-looking program.

If one of the three links—the individual pitcher, the manufacturer or the association—becomes weak, the whole chain will be weakened. Forward!

Pictured here are the 24 finalists, a number of those who did not qualify, and horseshoe enthusiasts who watched the tournament. Officials of the tournament are also in the picture. In the front row, starting with the man second from left is William Blair, John Hogan and L. E. Tanner, members of the tournament committee. Next to Tanner is Alex. Cumming, president of the National Association. Next in line are R. B. Howard, editor of The Horseshoe World and newly-elected secretary-treasurer of the National Association; B. G. Leighton, chairman of the Interim Committee; V. W. Kimball, member of the Tournament Committee; Jack Claves, of St. Louis; Rev. P. V. Harris, second vice-president of the National Association; John A. Gordon, equipment manufacturer, and F. M. Kohler, one of the scorekeepers.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE CHICAGO WORLD TOURNAMENT

Scorekeepers at the World's championship tournament included Chas. Mueller, William McMegehan, Mr. Ludwick, Geo. Bush, Ed. Dreesbach, Donald Cooper, Chas. Miller, George Stone, L. Peterson, F. M. Kohler, Frank Wilson.

Guy H. Marshbanks, of New York, was the first colored pitcher ever to enter a world's championship meet. Mr. Marshbanks is a good tosser but did not make the finals.

Jack Claves had a terrible time getting people to pronounce his name correctlly. It is pronounced "Clafvess." Jack's success with horseshoe pitching in St. Louis is not surprising. He has a wonderful personality and is greatly enthused over the game. He rendered a great service as announcer, informing the spectators of scores, etc.

F. M. Kohler, one of the storekeepers and an ardent booster of the game in Chicago, dressed as clown policeman at one of the tournament sessions, causing much merriment. Kohler is a real chap.

The tournament made a "convert" out of J. Lyman Bingham, secretary of the sports committee of the

THEODORE ALLEN - CAROLINE SCHULTZ, NEW CHAMPS

WAY out in California lives the lad who came to Chicago, seized upon an opportunity and by steady, consistent pitching conquered, taking back to the Golden West with him the world's championship horseshoe crown—and a right neat purse of money.

And out in Harvey, Ill., which is adjacent to Chicago, they are celebrating the victory of another world's champion, Miss Caroline Schultz, winner of the women's world tournament. Her sister, Charlotte, was runner-up.

It was a great tournament, well attended and successful in every respect.

The setting was just right—the games being played on the board walk in front of a large row of seats placed along an incline facing the beautiful North Lagoon at the World's Fair grounds and thousands came and went, all surprised at the great skill that has been developed in the horseshoe game.

The World's Fair, with its Old World settlements, is kind of a melting pot of the races and all took a glimpse at the games being played on the waterfront and already several other countries have indicated an interest in the game.

The National Horseshoe Pitchers Association offices report an increase in interest as a result of the publicity, which was world-wide, and each day brings a large batch of letters from every nook and corner of the United States, many from Canada and Mexico and several from other countries.

Smash World Records

Some world's records were broken at the tournament in both the men's and women's classes. Allen set a new record of 73.5 per cent ringer average for the tournament, while Isais came through with a single game ringer percentage of 93.2, and C. C. Davis, who looked for a long time like the winner of the 1933 event, made a new record of 11 consecutive doubles on the last day of the tourney. Miss Caroline Schultz made a new ringer average, in national tournament play, of 73.8.

Although he came near losing out in the qualifying rounds, the defending champion, Blair Nunamaker, of East Cleveland, O., pitched some wonderful games and threatened to repeat at one or two stages in the game.

The thrill of a lifetime came when Davis and Allen pitched off their tie for first place. This event was broadcast over WLS and is said to have been heard in many distant points.

The crowd stood motionless and speechless until the last shoe had been tossed on and then a mighty cheer was given for two good horseshoe pitchers—both worthy of A-1 ratings in the horseshoe realm.

Putt Mossman, former title holder, who is making an extensive trip in the East, riding his motorcycle and pitching horseshoes at fairs and exhibitions, came late to the tournament after it had been rumored he would not be an entrant. He failed to qualify.

Some of the romance and glamour of the tournament was denied when Frank E. Jackson, 'grand old man of the game,' failed to qualify, getting a bad start on his 100-shoe pitch. His failure was regretted by all.

Jimmy Risk was a popular contestant in the finals and there were many who were placing their faith in his winning—but he just couldn't get the "breaks." Even in a coin tossing he landed on the bottom, taking fifth place.

Smart horseshoe pitchers, who plan to compete for future titles, are fixing in their minds the work of Risk, Isais, Lecky, Sigler, Hawley, Duryee and some of the others—and all will be real contenders in future shoe combats.

The entire tournament committee received congratulations on the tournament, special mention going to L. E. Tanner, president of the Illinois Association, and John J. Hogan, who had charge of the Chicago tournament headquarters, aided by George B. Lufkin, William Blair and V. W. Kimball.

Women's Tournament

The women's tournament had 10 entries and in the 100-shoe qualifying rounds this was cut down to six, which allowed the play-off on this to be handled quickly.

There was just as much interest in the women's tournament as the men's, the splendid ringer percentages of the players attracting much attention.

The Schultz sisters—Caroline, the winner, and Charlotte, the runner-up—are marvels, and their work won the admiration of all who were astonished at the skill that has been developed even among women pitchers.

Mrs. Mayme Francisco did not defend her title, being unable to leave a business she and her husband are operating in the East.

There were some familiar faces in the women's tournament, and some new ones. Mrs. Mildred Brouillette, a former world's champ, won fourth place, when three tied for that position. Mrs. Esther James is a splendid pitcher, this Michigan lady coping third money. Grace Jackson, wife of Carroll Jackson, and Mrs. Chas. Johnson were the other contestants, and may have to be reckoned with in future tournaments, as they are increasing their averages steadily, but surely.

Miss Caroline Schultz pitched 211 centage of 73.8, breaking the old ringers out of 286 shoes, with a per- record of 54.5.

A WORD FROM OUR NEW PRESIDENT

The 1933 summer tournament is now history. New champions have been declared, new records established and, what is of greater importance, the game has been put back in the lime-light. The holding of the Chicago tournament has doubled the interest in horseshoe pitching over the country and it is up to the fans and players to maintain and increase this interest by organizing their respective districts, arranging local and state tournaments so handled that they may get the maximum of publicity and so staged that the public will know what is happening at all times. Publicity and the public interest will be the main factors in bringing our game to the front as a major sport. The entry of star players from all states, Mexico and Canada, indicates that the art of horseshoe pitching has taken root throughout the nation.

The National Association is the foundation of the game and must be supported through memberships if it is to function properly. Mr. Howard, the new secretary, is a very enthusiastic supporter of the game and we can depend upon him to do all in his power toward its welfare. However, he will require the aid of all horseshoe organizations in carrying out his program. We also expect more aid from the manufacturers of horseshoes and equipment than has been given in the past and from the attitude of manufacturers at the convention, prospects are good that we will get it. So let's all pull together and go places.

ALEX. CUMMING.

NEW RECORDS SET

New records set in the tournament were made by Miss Caroline Schultz, who made a new ringer record of .738, making 211 ringers with 286 shoes tossed; by Theodore Allen, whose tournament ringer average was 73.5; by Fernando Isais who made a ringer record in a single game of 93.2 per cent and by C. C. Davis, runner-up in the 1933 event, who pitched 11 straight doubles in one game.

There's something to shoot at, boys and girls!

The score of the game in which Isais made his ringer record is as follows:

	P	R	DR	SP	Pct
Isais	50	41	19	44	93.2
Duryee	1	25	4	44	56.8

Davis was pitching Hawley, in the last round of the tournament when he slapped on the 11 doubles.

SALTY BELL ON JOB

Salty Bell, noted sport writer on the Chicago Daily News, did a splendid job of covering the tournament. Salty became interested in the game and spent considerable time at the tournament.

There were several other reporters, including Mr. Andrews, of the City News Bureau, and others whose names we did not learn, who worked with the tournament committee and were quite helpful in sending out the news.

WINS OHIO TITLE

Blair Nunamaker won the Ohio State championship at Lakeside. Results will be published in the next issue, as they were received too late for this number.

FAIR HAS TOURNEY

The Pocahontas County Fair, Marlinton, W. Va., is holding a horseshoe tournament the latter part of this month.

REAL HORSESHOE PROMOTION

The Greater Cleveland Horseshoe League never misses a bet to promote the game. This Ohio organization, of which Henry J. Gunselman is president and D. O. Chess, secretary, sent 20 copies of the July tournament number of the Horseshoe World to each of the Cleveland newspapers, city officials and members of the Board of Education.

A splendid idea!

WHO IS ALLEN?

Teddy Allen hails from Alhambra, California.

He lives at 1504 So. Third street.

He is 24 years of age.

He was born in Kansas.

He expects to return to Colorado some day. He lived there for a great many years, holding the Colorado championship 8 years. He has been Rocky Mountain Regional Champion three years.

He uses the 1 1/4 turn.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen. His two brothers, Nathan and Ira Allen, are also good shoe tossers.

Concentration on practice of self control are his words of wisdom to beginners.

He's a real champ and a real chap!

WEST OAK LANE CLUB FORMED

Mr. Roy Fournier, of 6735 Wyncote avenue, Philadelphia, who was the former Pennsylvania state champion, has organized the West Oak Lane Horseshoe Club which consists of two well-laid-out courts which are always kept in the best of condition. There are at present 14 active members. Mr. Fournier, who is president of the club, is endeavoring to use the club as a nucleus for the advancement of the game in this section and already new clubs have been organized in three suburbs, i. e., Manoa, Narberth and Mt. Airy. The West Oak Lane Horseshoe Club has made rapid strides under Mr. Fournier's guidance.

A very close game pitched at the club on July 18th, between Mr. Fournier and Mr. A. J. Dunbar, who is the present champion of Philadelphia and vicinity, resulted as follows:

	P	R	DR	SP	Pct.
Dunbar	50	34	10	64	53.1
Fournier	49	33	12	64	51.6

The West Oak Lane Horseshoe Club is desirous of contacting with any pitchers or clubs in this section of the country to arrange matches, etc. Please address all communications to Mr. Roy Fournier, 6735 Wyncote Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.

BOY WONDER WINS

On the evening of August 16, at the Dearborn horseshoe courts, Bobbie Hitt, sensational 11-year-old horseshoe star who pitches 37 feet, defeated both Lee Rose and Leo Lattore two games each. A large crowd cheered loudly for the tiny player who stands less than four feet high and weighs only 50 pounds.

Summary of the games follows:

	P	R	DR	SP	Pct
Hitt	50	63	20	92	.684
Rose	43	60	20	92	.657
Hitt	50	47	18	66	.712
Rose	37	41	13	66	.621
Hitt	50	40	13	56	.714
Lattore	23	32	11	56	.571
Hitt	50	78	27	106	.736
Lattore	49	78	28	106	.736

The last game certainly drew applause as Bobbie held Lattore on 49 for the last eight innings and came from behind to go out. All three players pitch on the Dearborn team of the International League.

PITCH AT SUMMER CAMP

Jack Ganten, 711 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada, writes that he has just learned about the Horseshoe World through a story about the World's tournament in the Montreal Star.

Mr. Ganten says from 20 to 25 pitchers enjoy the sport at his summer camp each summer.

The Canadian association should contact Mr. Ganten as he is very much interested in the game.

P. V. HARRIS

The first session of the 1933 convention was held Wednesday evening, July 26, at the Ft. Dearborn Hotel, in Chicago, with Vice-president Alex. Cumming presiding.

The meeting opened with the above delegates present.

Minutes of the last meeting, February 10, 1929, were read and approved.

Moved by John Hogan and seconded by John Gordon that Section 3 of Article 4, providing no games be played on Sabbath Day, be stricken out. Motion carried.

Moved by Jack Claves and seconded by C. C. Davis that in Article 3, Section B of By-Laws that provision that prizes be awarded at least five failing to qualify be stricken out.

Moved by P. V. Harris, seconded by Geo. B. Lufkin, that unplayed games in a National tournament should be forfeited if the player fails to finish his games.

A motion that the word white be stricken out of Section 1, Article 4, was revised by an amendment by Mr. Lufkin. As amended the motion carried provided that the matter of color be left to the local committee managing tournaments.

Mr. Gordon moved that the rules governing construction of courts be suspended in the Chicago World's Fair tournament provided they were the proper distance and were level. Carried.

In reference to Rule 6 a motion was made to add the words "weight and shape." Carried.

Another recommendation was made by Mr. Niven as follows: A shoe that is official shall be made so by a committee of three appointed by the National Association. New shoes shall be presented with blue prints to this committee. The Horseshoe World is prohibited to advertise shoes that do not have the official sanction of the National Association."

Suggested by B. G. Leighton that this be referred to Equipment and Supplies Committee, who moved that a committee of three be appointed. The chair named B. G. Leighton, Leo Lattore and James Risk.

Committees named by Mr. Cumming were:

Constitution, By-Laws and Rules—Geo. B. Lufkin, P. V. Harris, Hansford Jackson.

Auditing and Finance — Carroll Jackson, Blair Nunamaker and Frank Nevin.

Grievance Committee—C. C. Davis, Bert Duryee, Bob Brown.

Publicity—R. B. Howard, John Hogan, William Blair.

Resolutions — P. V. Harris, Jack Claves.

Nominations — Jack Claves, Rev. Stevens, John Gordon, C. C. Davis, Frank Jackson.

B. G. Leighton made an appeal for support of an amateur program.

Upon suggestion of B. G. Leighton, the secretary was instructed to send a telegram to Mr. Geo. Fetchner, Director of the Citizens Reconstruction Camps, urging that horseshoe be included as a sport at all camps.

Moved by Hogan that annual election be held. Carried.

Secretary was instructed to cast unanimous ballot for following:

President, Alex. Cumming, Minneapolis; First Vice-president, L. E. Tanner, Anchor, Ill.; Second Vice-president, P. V. Harris, Holden, Mass.; Third Vice-president, Clem B. Porter, Glendale, Calif; Secretary-treasurer, R. B. Howard, London, O.

C. C. Davis brought up matter of 12-inch stakes. Matter was carried over.

Second Session, Friday Evening

Meeting called to order by President Alex. Cumming. Roll of delegates was called. Minutes of the last meeting were approved and read.

Letters from D. D. Cottrell, H. L. Ermatinger and W. J. Seas were read.

Reports of committees were made. Constitution and By-Laws and Membership Committees made acceptable reports.

C. C. Davis reported for the Grievance Committee, objecting to the method of qualifying.

Rules Committee reported.

James Risk moved, and C. C. Davis seconded a motion "That the rules be changed and that 12-inch stakes with a 3-inch lean be used in all future National Tournaments." Carried.

Rev. P. V. Harris reported verbally on resolutions, thanking the World's Fair, the press, the hotel and the Chicago Committee.

B. G. Leighton made a lengthy talk on the future of the game and moved "that an Interim Committee of five members be named to control horseshoe activities for a period of one year and that an Advisory Committee of 300 members or more be named; that the final selection of the committee be left in the hands of Mr. Cumming and Mr. Howard. Seconded by Jack Claves. Motion carried.

A motion by Mr. Nevin that the six high men in any National tournament be permitted to enter the next tournament without having to qualify failed to find support.

Meeting adjourned.

COUNTY LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Dayton, O., Aug. 4—Montgomery County Horseshoe league was organized last evening at the Edgemont courts.

The organization includes Wright Field and McCall teams of the Industrial league; East Dayton, Ft. McKinley and Edgemont of the Buckeye State association; South Park, Ohmer Park and New Lebanon clubs. Other clubs are expected to join.

The officers elected at the meeting last evening are: President, Dr. Alan R. Pottle; vice president, Chester Sherer; secretary and treasurer, C. A. Nelis, each to hold their respective office during this season.

SIDELIGHTS

World's Fair, through whom all negotiations for holding the tourney were made. Mr. Bingham visited the tournament several times and on one occasion was seen pitching a game with a friend. Mr. Bingham is also assistant to the president of the American Amateur Athletic Union.

If Bill Blair talks in his sleep and mumbles a lot of figures, he isn't counting sheep. He will still be counting ringers. Mr. Blair, who was a member of the tournament committee, along with the new secretary of the National Association, had the huge task of keeping the statistical records.

Cameras more than clicked during the women's meet. Chicago newspapers found an appeal in the pictures of women tossers. One paper printed a photo of the Jackson family—Frank and his three sons and his daughter-in-law. All entered the tournament.

Even the cops sought autographed pies of the July Horseshoe World. Scores of copies were autographed by all the pitchers and tourney officials for other pitchers, for people in the bleachers and even for the cops on duty along the lagoon who became quite interested in the tournament.

Busy members of the committee were George B. Lufkin and V. W. Kimball. Both assisted with the official records and aided in keeping the tournament running smoothly.

John Hogan is a glutton for punishment. The next day after the tournament was over he was found wondering around the administration building at the Century of Progress Exposition discussing another horseshoe event that is contemplated.

It's just one tournament after another for L. E. Tanner. Mr. Tanner, whose hard work in making the World's tournament a grand success, is all set to plunge into another one—the Illinois state event.

Was John A. Schultz a proud papa? And Mrs. Schultz registered equal delight when their daughters landed at the top of the heap in the women's event.

It was a good omen for Allen that he drew No. 1 when the numbers were handed out.

Somehow or other we feel our first efforts toward internationalizing horseshoe pitching should be in Brazil. Bill Evans, who was also at the tournament representing the Horseshoe World, "stole the march" on the writer and was introduced to the Brazilian beauty, who presented the medals, by Rufus Dawes, head of the exposition—all because his father used to live in Brazil.

It was mighty good to see Ed. Werner of Indianapolis at the tournament. He used to be a "regular" but had dropped out of the picture for a few years.

Our friend, D. O. Chess got there a little late, but he made up for lost time. This Clevelander surely enjoyed the tournament, wearing a broad smile every time we saw him.

Just in case you want to write the champions, here are their addresses: Theodore Allen, 1504 S. Third Street, Alhambra, Calif., and Miss Caroline Schultz, 321 Calumet Blvd., Harvey, Ill.

One of the big regrets of the tournament was that Frank Jackson, "grand old man of the game," failed to qualify. Frank just got off to a bad start in tossing his 100 shoes and all pitchers regretted it, as did the tournament committee.

Blair Nunamaker, retiring champion, made a most favorable impression upon the crowd. While it looked for a time that he wouldn't qualify, when he did settle down he pitched real horseshoes. He pitches a beautiful shoe—he attracted much attention, as a champion, of course would, and was popular with the gallery. It looked for a time like he would repeat.

Mrs. J. F. Francisco was not present to defend her title in the woman's tourney. Mrs. C. A. Lanham, of Bloomington, Ill., also a former holder of the title, was not present either. Mrs. George Brouillette, of Minneapolis, who held the title at one time, was there but couldn't overcome the Schultz combination.

Mrs. John J. Hogan spent a couple of afternoons at the tournament and seemed to enjoy the meet. She is the one who really deserves a lot of credit in the Hogan family—John shouldn't get all of it—she has been a "horseshoe widow" for weeks while John was carrying the huge task of arranging for the event.

Canada was represented by one lone pitcher — Fred Harburn, of Stratford, Ont. Unfortunately he did not qualify. His score was 210, so he wasn't so far from the mark.

Johnny Colao, the Chicago lad, was a popular pitcher in the tournament. Johnny is a great boy and a good horseshoe pitcher.

Jimmy Risk looked like a "sure thing" for a while, and many of his friends were encouraged enough to think he would land on top, but he "cracked up" on the final day.

Big, tall, sandy-haired G. C. Hawley, of Bridgeport, O., just across the river from Wheeling, went like a house afire for a time. Hawley is a mighty good pitcher and will bear watching in future meets.

Just look over the states represented in the entry list of 71 men and 10 women and you will see the greatest array of states ever seen in a national shoe event. It is an indication that champions are looming up in every state.

We bet a lot of folks at Phoenix, Ariz., were disappointed that Jimmy Lecky didn't win first place. Jimmy is a good pitcher. These boys that come out of the West seem to have championship caliber and all of 'em will bear watching or they may decide to keep the crown in the West for some time.

Two horseshoe manufacturers found 215 as a qualifying figure to be a notch too low. Both Bob Brown of the Mossman Co., and Leo Lattore, of Lattore & Levagood, made a 215 score, and much to the writer's regret, failed to get into the fracas. Both are good tossers and might have made good headway had they got their 100 shoes off in better shape.

One of the first national champions, Fred Brust, of the Ohio Horseshoe Co., was a spectator and took part in the manufacturers' conference.

Urgent business prevented Otto Swanstrom, of the Diamond Calk Co., from being present.

TIME HAS FINE STORY

Time, national magazine, carried a picture of the new champion, Teddy Allen, and a splendid story on horseshoe pitching the week following the World's tournament. Mr. Graebner, of the Time staff, spent several hours at the tournament.

FLATBRUSH CLUB

The Flatbrush Horseshoe Club has been in existence for a number of years and has some mighty good tossers in its membership, according to a communication from William Parchman, 959 New York Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

NEWS AND COMMENTS FROM THE SECRETARY'S DESK

Your new secretary enters his job with a realization of the big task he has ahead of him and with a knowledge that he has a high mark to shoot at—that of filling the place so ably managed by D. D. Cottrell, who served as secretary so many years. In addition he has had combined with the secretary's job, the office of treasurer, succeeding W. J. Seas—but we won't worry about the job of taking care of the money until we have some to take care of.

The Ten-point program given in a recent Horseshoe World, approved in the main at the recent National convention, somehow better expresses my hopes and ideas than anything I could say. I believe in the future of the horseshoe game. I think we now stand on the threshold of a new day when horseshoe pitching can be developed more than it has been developed in many years.

The fact that the World's Fair took recognition of the game and that it received such world-wide publicity during the tournament leads me to believe that we are beginning a new cra of growth.

I find it hard to set myself up as two persons—acting part of the time as editor of the Horseshoe World and the other as your secretary. I shall not try. As long as I am secretary you may rest assured that the entire resources of the magazine and the plant in which it is printed are at the command of horseshoe pitchers everywhere.

I shall not "preach" to you about your duty to the National Association. I do not intend "crying on your shoulders" when funds are low—and they are low and have been low for months and months, I am told—but every horseshoe pitcher knows that he should be affiliated with a club that is affiliated with a state organization that is affiliated with the national. If his club isn't so affiliated he should help support the National by paying $1.00 individual dues.

With that said I do not intend "preaching" on the subject. I shall have some things to say about what National is doing and is expecting to do. If we cannot sell this association on its merits and cannot produce evidence that we are doing something for the promotion of the game, we, of course, cannot claim your support.

Now that that is said—let's return to active work and less words about it.

I had the pleasure of meeting some of the representatives of foreign governments while in Chicago, and have had some correspondence with the District Rotary governors of several countries looking to the development of horseshoe pitching internationally and with the hope of having horseshoe pitching included in the next Olympic games. More information on this, as we accomplish something worth talking about.

While I feel that this page is worth something to horseshoe pitchers in general and that subjects discussed here may be of benefit to all horseshoe pitchers, I am of the opinion that there will be some matters of importance in the development of horseshoe pitching during the next few months, that might necessitate the issuance of regular bulletins to state organizations, clubs and individual members affiliated with the National. Some of these matters, no doubt, will be of more or less confidential nature and may require too much space to discuss in full in the secretary's page. Would clubs welcome a bulletin of this kind?

I cannot possibly find the space or time to tell you all the plans we have developed for the promotion of the game in this first message. Bear with us during the first few weeks—the job is a big one and we are having to put first things first.

Truly, I am going to enjoy being partners with the horseshoe pitchers of America in this big enterprise—I am ready to do my part, I think the horseshoe manufacturers will do theirs and I am sure the pitchers will do theirs. Who could ask for more?

AN ANNOUNCER

JACK CLAVES

Mr. Claves, past president of the St. Louis Municipal League, did a good job of announcing results at the Chicago meet. The spectators got a lot more out of the tournament as a result of Jack's work.

INVESTIGATE THIS PLAN

Horseshoe clubs should investigate the plan offered in the advertisement in this issue by the Wells Pleating & Button Company, Second Floor, Dye Building, Dayton, Ohio. One Ohio team has provided for its members black four-in-hand ties and have had the Wells Company stitch the name of the club of each tie. The cost is very small and the splendid impression it makes on the public fully justifies the expense.

The Wells Company is a friend of the horseshoe pitchers and we can fully recommend their service to the horseshoe clubs. We hope a number of our readers will write them for their proposition today.

MICHIGAN TOURNAMENT

The Michigan State Tournament will be held in Grand Rapids September 14 and 15.

 * WAS HE EXCITED? *
 * *****

Horseshoe pitching gets Bill Blair excited any time, but when the world's best toss 'em as they did at Chicago, Bill just can't stand it.

This genial member of the World's Tournament Committee filed the score sheets and when a world's record was broken or a scorekeeper turned in a record of a hot game, it was all Blair could do to remain at his post.

A Horseshoe World representative thought he ought to have a picture of Blair for his files but had no idea he was catching such a good close-up. If you think Blair wasn't excited when Allen beat Davis for the world's championship just look at this picture, taken just as the games were finished that gave the Californian the title.

INTEREST LAGGING

Interest in the horseshoe game in Xenia, O., is lagging, according to reports. Indoor courts in that city were closed before the winter season was over.

PITCHING IN HOLLAND

E. van Heeckeren, Molecaten, Hattem, Holland, is trying to introduce the horseshoe game at his camp in Holland. He has written the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association for literature to give the tourists. The Horseshoe World has been sent to Mr. van Heeckeren.

We were mighty pleased to hear from our good friend, Dr. C. A. Sotaaen, of Windom, Minn., again recently. Windom has some mighty good horseshoe tossers with a team that has not been defeated in a team contest in five years.

WLS DOES FINE WORK

Uncle Ezra, of Radio Station WLS, assisted by the announcer, W. R. Cline, did a good job of bringing the crowds into the bleachers along the lagoon on Monday morning at the World's tournament.

To Mr. Cline should go the profound thanks of all horseshoe pitchers for the splendid boost he gave the game by broadcasting, shoe by shoe, the final games of the tournament between Davis and Allen to decide the championship. The "mike" was placed in front of the courts and a play-by-play version of the championship tilt went out over the ether, along with witticisms by Uncle Ezra.

Uncle Ezra, Mr. Cline and WLS deserve our appreciation.

L. T. Couch, Bryant, Ark., is an interested fan.

ACTION PICTURE

This action picture was snapped by a Horseshoe World cameraman, showing Davis and Risk tossing the slippers. The picture gives an idea of how the courts were built on top of the board walk between the bleachers and the north lagoon waterfront.

California wins in another sport.

But give Kansas some credit as Ted Allen emanated from a cyclone cellar in that state.

So did Davis, but both evidently "blew" to escape pitching in the high winds.

Chicago turned the heat on us but we heard no cannonading and for this we are thankful.

John Hogan was moving around so fast he is probably spinning yet.

The Illinois boys backed by "Century of Progress" officials staged a real tournament in an ideal setting.

The old timers had a tough time competing with all the dark horses entered.

Most of the boys would pitch a week for nothing to get the smiles lavished upon Ted Allen, after he had won the championship, by the Brazilian girl.

Was she a honey—or, was she a honey.

If they're all like that in Brazil, we're moving down among the nuts.

Saw the two Jimmys — Risk and Lecky—in the Belgian Village where you get the opportunity of kissing the wooden shoe maidens. They were not thinking of horseshoes.

Discouraged hometown pitchers are tossing their shoes into the river after getting a report that someone at the tournament had thrown 80 out of 100 blindfold. Evidently some of Uncle Ezra's work.

"I'm taking up golf from now on,"

says Jimmy Risk—but he'll be back

California here we come—if Mr. Gordon can arrange a winter tournament.

 * WINS TOURNAMENT *

Ray Brown, young Willis Avenue Club tosser, Springfield, captured the Clark county, Ohio, horseshoe pitching title recently from his team-mate, Lester Allen, title winner in 1931 and 1932.

RAY BROWN

Brown's victory came as a climax to the tournament which was staged at the Beer Corner courts, just outside of Springfield, under the auspices of the Clark county Horseshoe Pitchers league.

It is estimated that almost 2,000 fans saw the finish. Great crowds attended each evening.

A representative of The Horseshoe

World had the privilege of attending this tournament and seeing the splendid way it was staged by Henry Hill, president of the Clark County association, and his committee.

High school bands and other entertainment features were used each evening to help draw the crowds. One of the tourist cabins at the Beer camp was fitted up as an office and "broadcasting station," all announcements were made over an amplifying system, thus adding to the tone and interest of the tournament.

One night a very able address was made to the crowd, outlining the history and growth of horseshoe pitching in the county, by D. B. Rutan, veteran Clark county horseshoe leader and one of the association's first presidents.

Following is a story from the Springfield Sun, telling of the victory by Brown:

"Ray Brown, young Willis Avenue club tosser, wrested the Clark county horseshoe pitching championship from his older teammate, Lester Allen, who held the title in 1931 and 1932, before a record crowd of between 1,500 and 2,000 fans at the Beer Corner courts Tuesday night. Brown, who had taken four out of five matches from Allen in the first portion of the challenge round Monday night, took two in a row Tuesday for a 6-1 victory in the best six-of-11 series.

Allen, runner-up for the state championship last year, could take only the first game of Monday's play from Brown, losing the next six in order. The defending champion was apparently on his way to his second victory in Tuesday's first match, leading Brown 36-16, but Ray rallied sharply and overtook Allen to win 50-25. Brown took the second and deciding game by the one-sided count of 50-25, notching up the phenomenal ringer percentage of 75 and tossing four double ringers in a row, a new high for the tourney.

Brown's victory Tuesday ended a tournament which saw horseshoe pitching come into its own as a "big league" sport, the title event attracting between 7,000 and 8,000 fans to the Beer Corner courts during its duration, a new state and perhaps a new national record. Brown dominated the tournament from the start, leading the qualifying round and then sweeping 11 games in a row in the title round-robin to earn the right to pitch Allen in the challenge round.

The tourney was sponsored by the Clark County Horseshoe Pitchers Association, of which Henry Hill is the president.

The new champion will represent Clark county in the state title tourney at Lakeside, Aug. 15, 16 and 17. The Bryan high school band of Yellow Springs entertained with a concert just before Tuesday's matches.

Summaries of Tuesday's two games follows:

	SP	P	R	DR	Pct
Brown	66	50	40	13	60.6
Allen	66	45	37	11	55.0
Brown	56	50	42	15	75.0
Allen	56	25	33	10	50.0
