MORE ABOUT TURNING POINTS

LAST month we said that the Moline tournament would bring the horseshoe game to the turning point in its history. We predicted then that unless the National Association received some financial assistance it could not live.

That challenge was met by the delegates at Moline. It was the largest convention ever held and its work, we believe, covered more ground. It will go down in history as a pace-setting convention that fought, yes, but one that finally agreed and then said to all horseshoe pitchers here is a plan: Roll up your sleeves and help us put it over!

A new membership plan was adopted. What will horseshoe leaders in the various states do about it? They don't need to lag back because of charter fees now—those are eliminated. Now we shall see who the really interested persons are—and to those organizations and individuals that work hard will go the right to represent the National Association.

Allen Retains Title — New Lady Champion Crowned

The "Battle of Moline" has been fought and Ted Allen, Alhambra, Calif., is still the king of horseshoe pitching, with Mrs. Esther James, Hastings, Mich., as the new champion in the women's division. The tournament was held in the Illinois city August 27 to September 3.

In practically every respect it was the best world's championship tournament ever held. It was faster than any ever held before and only rainy weather prevented it from being a decided success in a financial way. All honor goes to those hard-working Moline club officials and members, to the city of Moline and to all who had anything to do with putting on the tournament, which will go down in horseshoe history not only as a great pitching classic but also will be known as the turning point in a new era in horseshoe pitching.

Old heads in the game were astonished at the qualifying scores which gave the first indication of the lightning speed that has developed in the game. From the first few hours of qualifying day could be heard the constant comment, "This one will break all records," and "This is going to be the hottest of 'em all." All of which brought big, broad smiles of satisfaction to the faces of Andy Peterson, Dave Swanson and William Scott, Moline club officials, and to the face of Tournament Manager L. E. Tanner and other officers of the National Horseshoe Pitchers association. Rain did cut down the percentages but at that records were smashed.

Wisconsin played a big part in keeping the old-timers in the meet on the anxious seat; first, Casey Jones, Waukesha's youthful flash, winning 11 straight rounds without a loss, once stood out as a possible "dark horse" on the way to victory, only to be defeated in the 12th game by Harvey Elmerson, of Milwaukee, who finished second in the tournament. Elmerson furnished the tournament crowds with a thrill in the closing game of the tournament when he pushed Allen into his best pitching tactics to hold the championship crown. Elmerson is a great pitcher and is yet to be reckoned with in future tournaments. The same might be said of Guy Zimmerman who nosed out Charles C. Davis for third place.

Allen has the faculty of giving his opponents a good lead and then turning on the ringer faucet for the closing minutes of a game, wading through to victory. He is a hard man to beat and only two pitchers were able to take his measure in the entire tournament — the veteran Frank Jackson and the newcomer, Charles Jones, defeating him.

World Records Shattered

Allen broke two world's records in winning the tournament, setting up a new average ringer percentage for his 23 games of 75.5 per cent as against his former record made in Chicago in the 1933 meet of 73.5 per cent. The Californian piled up 13 consecutive double ringers in his struggle to keep Elmerson from defeating him in the final match of the tournament, thus setting another new world's record for consecutive doubles in a men's national tournament play.

The record was held by C. C. Davis, Kansas City, who made 11 straight doubles at Chicago. This record was broken by Jimmy Risk, Montpelier, Ind., early in the Moline affair and later tied by L. F. Gray, of Los Angeles, each tossing 12 straight doubles, but Allen upset the tie record with his 13.

Despite this, the new lady champion, Mrs. James, threw 14 consecutive doubles in her qualifying round on Saturday morning, leading a field of eight contestants and making a total of 266 points, which was exactly the number made by C. C. Davis who was the topnotcher in the qualifying rounds in the men's division. Mrs. James made the men look to their laurels by showing a ringer percentage of 86 in her 100-shoe qualifying event. Miss Caroline Schultz, Harvey, Ill., who pitched in the qualifying rounds but refused to defend her title as world champion in the main go, which she declared was due to the inclement weather and muddy courts, qualified in second place with 256 points and 82 per cent ringers.

Mrs. James was a contender in the 1933 meet at Chicago, but evidently has put in some practice to good advantage since that time as she appeared to be the possible winner of the women's tournament from the very start when she made such a remarkable performance in the qualifying contest. Like Ted Allen she battles away with little regard to what her opponent is doing, except to make sure that she tops enough ringers and makes enough points to win. And it takes steady nerves and stamina to win a world's championship event — don't forget that!

Mrs. Johnson Second

Mrs. Charles Johnson, of Milwaukee, took home the second prize money in the women's meet, as did her fellowtownsman in the men's event.

The women's tournament attracted much attention and they put on a splendid exhibition that compared most favorably in quality with the men's meet.

Wins Dispatch Meet

Robert Bales, of Kansas City, Mo., turned in the greatest number of wins in the Moline Daily Dispatch tournament, which was held in connection with the world's championship tournament.

After the first championship flight of 24 had been culled from the qualifying rounds, a second list of 24 was made up and these tossers pitched at night for the Dispatch prize money.

Keen interest marked this tournament in spite of the fact that rain hampered the meet and a number forfeited their games and in spite of the fact that those who stayed in the meet decided to pitch it out on Monday night in a drizzling rain, the hour being near midnight when Announcer Jack Claves gave out the word that Bales was the winner. It was agreed by all that a second flight or "consolation tournament" added much to the success of the Moline events and it is hoped that such a tournament can be staged each year to take care of pitchers who don't make the first 24.

There were some in the Dispatch meet that looked plenty good and their scores showed that had the fates been kinder to them in the qualifying rounds they might have fit well in the first 24.

A kindly feeling for the Moline Dispatch exists among all horseshoe

SHOE TOSSERS GO SOCIAL

One of the high spots of the visit of America's horseshoe pitching champions and near champions and had most interested fans to Moline, was the banquet and dance on the roof garden of the LeClaire hotel, sponsored by the Moline Horseshoe club.

Judge N. A. Larson, of Moline, served as an able toastmaster, and introduced Mayor A. Henry Arp, Harry A. Sward, of the Moline Dispatch; C. C. Lydick, of the Association of Commerce, and R. B. Howard, editor of the Horseshoe World, who made short talks, and Tournament Manager L. E. Tanner, Andrew Peterson, William Scott and Dave Swanson, Moline club officials, and others who took a bow. The principal address was delivered by Jack Claves, head of the Missouri State Association, who responded to Mayor Arp's address of welcome.

He praised the Moline club officials and urged co-operation in expanding the horseshoe sport.

Rev. E. V. Stevens, of Marlboro, Mass., gave the invocation and Chris Oberlander, Moline entertainer, gave readings in Swedish dialect to the delight of his listeners.

* A MESSAGE FROM OUR *
* NEW PRESIDENT *
* * * * *

I want to express my appreciation to horseshoe pitchers everywhere for their fine co-operation with the National Association and particularly do I want to thank those who were at Moline and who elected me president of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association.

We officers are only men. We will do our level best to bring the game to the high level it deserves and with the help of all pitchers and fans we shall accomplish something.

There is room for both classes of pitchers in this game — the good pitchers and the poorer pitchers. We are very proud of our high class, championship pitchers and shall strive to continue to offer prizes that will attract them, but we also recognize the obligation we owe the pitcher who doesn't make quite so many ringers. The success of the Dispatch tournament at Moline amply illustrates the need for a second division or secondary flight.

I appeal to all states to compete in the new drive for membership under the new plan adopted at Moline.

I went into office without promising favors and I expect to go out the same way. All my endeavors will be for the good of the National association and its members as a whole.

They say there are three million horseshoe pitchers. If we get one-third of that number to join the Na-

Here are the officers elected at Moline to guide the destinies of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association in its broadened program which many believe will bring the association to the forefront and place it on an equal basis with all other sports. National headquarters of the association will be retained at London, Ohio, in charge of the secretary-treasurer. L. R. Bates, Los Angeles, California, was elected third vice president, but his photograph was not available.

MINUTES OF CONVENTION
National Horseshoe Pitchers Association

Convention assembled Thursday evening, August 29, 1935, at the Le-Claire hotel in Moline, Ill., but due to noise caused by music at a dance in adjacent room, meeting was moved to the council room in the city hall. Vice President L. E. Tanner presided.

Delegates were seated and minutes of the 1935 convention were read and approved.

Committees announced by the chair were:

Constitution and Rules — Jack Claves, St. Louis; Frank Jackson, Blue Mound, Kansas.

Auditing Committee—James Risk, Montpelier, Ind., and Gaylord Peterson, Varna, Ill.

Grievance Committee—C. C. Davis, Kansas City, Mo., and Jack Claves, St. Louis, Mo.

Publicity Committee—R. B. Howard, London, O.; Dave Swanson and Andrew Peterson, Moline, Ill.

Resolutions Committee—Rev. E. V. Stevens, Marlboro, Mass.

Nominations Committee — Andrew Peterson, Moline, Ill.; Mrs. Glenn Rust, Milwaukee, Wis., and W. E. Santoro, Newark, N. J.

A special committee consisting of Secretary Howard, Bert Duryee and Rev. P. V. Harris was named to confer with the manufacturers to consider a plan of financial aid by the manufacturers.

John Hogan presented a request from the Community Center club, in Chicago, for a 90-day option on the 1936 tournament with the proviso that prize money be at least equal to the Chicago 1933 tourney or Moline 1935 tourney. Moved by C. C. Davis, and seconded by Walter Wheeler that an option be given. Carried.

A letter from President Alex Cumming expressing regret that he could not attend and asking that he be relieved of the presidency was read. The secretary was instructed to thank Mr. Cumming for his long and faithful service to the sport.

Matters pertaining to quiz methods were discussed. Lee Rose objected to the method used at Moline. Moved by Rev. E. V. Stevens and seconded by Leo Lattore that matter be referred to the rules committee. Carried.

The matter of membership dues, an expansion of the association, etc., was thoroughly discussed.

Meeting adjourned to meet Friday morning.

Friday Morning Session

Convention session called to order Friday morning, August 30, 1935, by Vice President L. E. Tanner.

A further discussion of plans for financing the National Association was held. A 25 cent membership fee was suggested.

After a long discussion the matter was referred to the Constitution and Rules Committee.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

L. E. Tanner, Anchor, Ill, president; P. V. Harris, Holden, Mass., first vice president; Dr. Alan Pottle, Dayton, second vice president; L. E. Bates, Los Angeles, third vice president, and Raymond B. Howard, London, O., secretary-treasurer. Mr. Bates was elected by a vote of 17 to 16 over H. M. Duncan, of Denver, Colo., in a spirited balloting session. The name of Jack Claves, who had been prominently mentioned for the presidency, was not presented, at Mr. Claves' request, as he declined the nomination due to pressure of business duties.

Meeting adjourned to meet Sunday afternoon, at 3 p. m.

Sunday Afternoon Session

Convention called to order at 3 p. m., Sunday, September 1, 1935, with President Tanner in chair.

The first order of business was a report that the manufacturers who had met with the committee named earlier in the convention, had agreed to purchase stamps from the National Association secretary to be affixed to all shoes sold, the money to go to the support of the association for tournament promotion and prizes, educational work, etc.

Augmented by a representative from each state having a delegate or delegates at the convention, Jack Claves reported that his committee had made a careful study of a financial plan and made the following report:

"Strike out Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and substitute: Section 1. Any person or group of persons may become a member or members in the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association on the payment of a 25c fee for a fiscal year from June 1 to June 1, 15 cents of this to be paid to the National Association and 10 cents to be retained by the State Association or the representative of each state elected by the state association or temporarily appointed by the National Secretary, to whom will be issued the state charter and through whom will be issued all membership cards. No membership shall be issued in any state except through such a state representative of the National Association. A state charter will be issued to the aforesaid representative by the National Secretary at no charge to the State Association, upon proper proof that such state association or representative will meet the requirements of the National Association and make an earnest effort to secure memberships.

"All sanctions for tournaments to be held in any state shall be issued by the state association or state representative, who shall require that national rules be followed and that each participant is a member of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association. A copy of the sanction shall be forwarded to the National Secretary for recording.

"All interstate sanctions shall be issued through the National Secretary, who shall notify the state associations or state representatives in each state included in such territory assigned to an interstate tournament.

"Championship certificates shall be issued through the National Secretary upon certification that national rules were followed, legal shoes used and that all participants in the tournament were members of the National Association.

(It was agreed that the "state having the largest membership enrolled shall have priority in the awarding of the National Tournament for 1937, providing sufficient funds are raised by the National Association, under the new membership plan, to conduct a National Tournament without outside aid." This clause of the report was included in that adopted but will not be printed in the official Constitution since it affects only one tour-namment.—Secretary).

"Under Article II of the By-Laws and under Section 1, add a clause to be known as (e): For participating in a tournament not sanctioned by the National Association or one of its state subdivisions or using unsanctioned shoes in a tournament, a member shall be suspended for a period of one year and the secretary of the National Association shall notify all State Associations and state representatives of said suspension."

Motion by John Hogan and seconded by Leo Lattore that the changes in the Constitution and By-Laws be adopted. Carried.

Mr. Claves then made the following report on changes in the Constitution affecting tournament play:

"Addition of words which will make Section 2 of Article VI read: Section 2. The winner of an authorized National Tournament shall be declared the champion horseshoe pitcher of the world and shall hold said title until the next authorized tournament at which time he shall have the privilege of again contesting for the title on the same basis of the others, except he shall not be compelled to pitch a qualifying round to enter the championship finals."

Moved by W. E. Santoro and seconded by R. H. Rizor that the change relieving the national champions from qualifying be adopted. Carried.

The convention also adopted a change in the By-Laws under Section 2, Article III, changing it to read: "No bid under $500 will be accepted" instead of $1000 in the clause referring to special matches authorized by the Executive Board to determine the championship.

The matter of methods of conducting eliminations, qualifying and the method of conducting tournaments as provided in Article III was discussed but no changes were made, except the above mentioned change in Section 2.

On motion of Harvey Elmeron and seconded by John Hogan, Section 8 was added to Article VI of the constitution to read as follows: "Section 8. The favored bidder or bidders for a National Tournament must place the total amount of the prize money on deposit in a national bank at least 30 days prior to the

"THE CREAM OF THE CROP" WHO PITCHED AT MOLINE

NEW FINANCIAL PLAN ADOPTED

Two new financial plans, which promise to put the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association on its feet and bring it to the foreground as the prominent sport that many believe it is capable of becoming, were adopted at the Moline convention. They are:

1. A new membership set-up, effective June 1, 1936.
2. A sales stamp idea worked out with some of the manufacturers and compulsory, effective January 1, 1936, on all shoes used in sanctioned tournaments.

Both ideas are calculated to bring in much needed revenue and already some states are starting to enroll members under the new plan for 1936, even though the new membership cards have not been issued yet by the National Association and membership under the plan cannot take effect until June 1. These states will contest with each other as it has been agreed that if the plan is a success and funds are available the 1937 tournament will be awarded to the state having the greatest membership. The 1936 tournament will be held under the present plan of getting some city or organization to underwrite it, as the new plan cannot possibly raise enough funds for prize money before 1937.

Manufacturers Line Up

At a meeting called by Secretary R. B. Howard, to which had been invited all horseshoe manufacturers known at the time, a majority of the leading shoe manufacturers expressed their willingness to help finance the National Association.

It was pointed out to them that the continuation of a National Association, and its strengthening, was the only assurance they had that the game would continue to grow and that their outlet for equipment would continue.

The manufacturers expressed interest in the plan and asked what would come to them as direct benefits which were outlined by Secretary Howard to include an educational campaign of a general nature, increased publicity through various means, a contact with playground and park board associations, an attempt to extend the game into school sports requirements, etc., as well as the adoption of a rule by the National Association that no shoe not included in the sales stamp plan would be allowed in a sanctioned tournament, whether it be national, district, state, city or county. This it was pointed out, if backed by a strong educational campaign urging pitchers to buy only shoes manufactured under the stamp plan, and opening date of the tournament and so certify to the National Secretary."

Rules Changes: Only one change was made in the rules governing the sport.

A motion was made by Leo Lattore and seconded by Ted Allen that Rule 6 be amended to require no hook shall project more than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch from the inside of the body of the shoe. Following a heated discussion and a vote taken in confusion, with consent of his second Mr. Lattore withdrew the motion.

A substitute motion presented by John Hogan and seconded by Hansford Jackson carried, amending Rule 6 of the Playing Rules as follows: "No hook shall project more than 13-16 inch from the inside of the body of the shoe."

A motion was made by C. C. Davis and seconded by Theodore Allen that the association ratify the agreement which the special committee made with the manufacturers and the following, effective January 1, 1936, is to be added to Rule 6 of the Playing Rules: "Effective January 1, 1936, no shoe shall be considered official for tournament play unless, in addition to meeting the specified weights and measurements, it is manufactured by a person or firm who has paid to the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association the sum of one cent for each shoe sold and has affixed a 1c official stamp, furnished by the National Association, to each shoe sold. Lists of manufacturers co-operating in this plan to help finance the National Association will be published from time to time and pitchers are urged to make sure that stamps are affixed on each shoe purchased."

The resolution covering this agreement which the National Association reads as follows: "On and after January 1, 1936, it shall be the duty of the National Secretary to sell to the manufacturer of shoes prepaid sales stamps, in the denomination of one cent, official stamps to be affixed to each and every shoe sold, the money derived from the sale of these stamps to be used in the promotion of the game. No unsanctioned shoe shall be permitted in any tournament sanctioned by the National Association or any of its state divisions or state representatives. To secure a sanction for official shoes the manufacturer must not only meet the required weights and measures set forth in the official rules, but must also agree to purchase and affix a 1c official stamp, purchased from the National Association, to each and every shoe sold. A program of education shall be carried on, whereby the pitchers will be informed who is co-operating in this method of boosting the game and a list of those fully co-operating shall be published from time to time in order that those conducting tournaments may know which shoes are legal for tournament play, as undoubtedly many shoes will be used in such tournaments which are not brand new and after the stamps have been rubbed off in playing. Pitchers will be urged to take no risks with unofficial equipment and to insist on shoes bearing the National Association stamps."

Earl Strick, of Erie, Pa., and others, made pleas for more flights in future tournaments in order that the poorer pitcher might be given an opportunity to participate. The success of a second tournament such as the Dispatch tournament at Moline was pointed out as proof of the worthiness of the idea.

The convention adjourned with a vote of thanks for the Moline committee.

R. B. HOWARD, Secretary.

MESSAGE FROM TANNER

tional, through state associations, at 15 cents each and receive in addition one cent on each shoe sold by manufacturers we would have a war chest big enough to do anything we wished, without begging. Let's get busy on membership NOW.

Horseshoe pitchers learned to know and to like Lynn Callaway and Kenneth Miller, of the Moline Dispatch, who did a swell job of covering the tournament. Callaway had a wonderful grasp on the fundamentals of the game from the start and his articles were accurate and well written.

HATS OFF TO THESE CLUB OFFICIALS

NEW FINICIAL PLAN

bearing these little stamps, would result in advantages to the manufacturers co-operating. As a further check on this, the constitution was revised by the convention making it punishable with suspension of membership for one year for any pitcher to use unsanctioned shoes, as well as making it compulsory that he pitch only in sanctioned tournaments, the latter ruling also to carry with it a one-year suspension for failure to comply.

Among those in attendance at the meeting were Otto Swanstrom, Diamond Calk Co., Duluth, Minn.; John A. Gordon, the Gordon Horseshoe Co., South Gate, Calif; Fred M. Brust, the Ohio Horseshoe Co., Columbus, O.; Earl Strick, of the Erie Malleable Iron Co., Erie, Pa.; Leo Lattore and E. Levagood, of Lattore and Levagood, Dearborn, Mich.; C. C. Davis, Kansas City, Mo., and W. L. Isaacs, Hamilton, O., all representing manufacturers, and Bert Duryee, Rev. E. V. Stevens and R. B. Howard, representing the National Association. President L. E. Tanner was unable to attend as he was busy at the courts where the night games were being played.

Other firms who were unable to send representatives to the meeting or who have announced their intention of making shoes since the invitation for the meeting was sent out will be urged to join in the sales stamp plan.

Charters Will Be Free

Under the new membership plan charters will be issued in all of the 48 states of the Union as rapidly, after June 1, 1936, as is practical. These charters will be free of charge, instead of the usual $25.00 fee now charged. No city and county club charters will be granted, as these will, under the new plan, be issued by the state association.

In issuing these charters the State Associations will agree to meet the requirements of the National Association and abide by its Constitution and By-Laws. In organizing subordinate clubs and in issuing charters the State Association will be sure to see to it that each club collects a fee, a portion of which is to be remitted to the National Association.

Under the plan, as adopted by the convention, no state may charge less than 25 cents membership fees to individual members and 15 cents of this must be remitted to the National Association. They can charge as much over 25 cents as they choose, if they wish to keep more than 10 cents per capita for their state treasury, so long as 15 cents goes to the National.

Uniform Cards for All

Individual membership cards will be furnished by the National to each state. They will be uniform except for the state designation, all being signed by the National Secretary with a place for countersigning by the proper official in each state. These cards will be numbered and charged to each state when sent to the state secretary or other state official and the money collected or unused cards returned will be credited to that account, according to those who are preparing to set up the National Association bookkeeping system. An accurate record of the person to whom cards are issued, with their complete address, will be required to be filed with monthly reports and remittances to the National Association office.

In states where there are no state associations or district or city or county organizations active enough to take care of organizing the state the National Secretary will, after due investigation, appoint a state representative in that state. In other states where a state organization is ready to take over the reins, that organization will be asked to name its state secretary or some other official as the National Association representative in that state. This, in a way, fills the suggestions made that each state have a state vice president. And it assures active co-operation with at least one leader, and in many cases a great number of leaders, in every state, working to not only build up a strong state organization but at the same time lending support to the National.

Championship certificates will be issued by the State Association or state representative, after he is satisfied that the National rules were followed and that all pitchers were members of the National and that they used only sanctioned shoes. In cases of interstate championships the National Secretary will issue the sanction and the championship certificate. Uniform sanction blanks and championship certificates will be offered for use of the states and all sanctions and championships shall be registered by the State Association.

MOLINE DISPATCH PITCHERS

Pictured here are the tossers who qualified below the first 24, and who did a good job of putting on ringers in the Moline Daily Dispatch tournament which was won by Robert Bales of Kansas City. This picture was taken at night as the Dispatch rounds were all played off at night.

tion or state representative with the National Secretary so they may be properly recorded.

States' Rights Upheld

Under the new membership plan each state can operate like it has in the past. Some have accepted direct individual memberships and others have had a plan of taking in clubs and leagues into membership. The National isn't going to interfere with this, except each organization down the line, whether it is state or city club, must collect enough to be able to remit to the National, through the state organization, 15 cents for each membership card issued.

A further study of these two new plans may be made by reading the minutes of the National Convention in Moline. Furthermore, those who fail to understand any detail may write to the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association, 45 West Second street, London, Ohio, for any detail that is not explained in this article or in the minutes of the convention.

LARRY MAHONEY DEFEATS JOSEPH PUGLISE IN MATCH

In an exhibition match at the courts of the Madison Horseshoe club in Red Bank, N. J., on July 23, Larry Mahoney, New Jersey state champion, defeated Joseph Puglise of Paterson, former state champion, in three straight games. The match was sponsored by the Madison Horseshoe club to raise funds to send Larry Mahoney to Moline, Illinois, to compete in the world's championships. It was sanctioned by the New Jersey state association.

Mahoney had his highest ringer average in the first game when he averaged 72.7 per cent ringers to defeat Puglise 50-15. Puglise was slow in warming up and unable to really get started. The second game started with both players on even terms and continued until the 25th inning with Mahoney leading at 36-32. From then on, Puglise was only able to get one point as Mahoney ran out the game with a barrage of double ringers, even though he averaged 50 per cent ringers himself.

The third and final game was the best and most exciting of the series. With both players bearing down all the way, three new state records were made when there were four ringers on the stake eight times; 28 double ringers were pitched; 18 double ringers were pitched by Mahoney—the highest for a player in an official game.

Puglise led in the first eight innings, but going into the 14th inning Mahoney had a slight lead at 16-15. From then on he always had a commanding lead and he won 50-31. In the last six innings the players thrilled the large crowd when they both pitched six straight ringers; Mahoney pitching ten ringers for 12 pitched shoes and Puglise eight. Mahoney averaged 69.4 per cent and Puglise 60.0 per cent. For the entire match, Mahoney averaged 67.8 per cent ringers and Puglise 55.0 per cent.

Four hundred spectators witnessed the match which was played under lights, starting at 8:30 p. m. "Addie" Kind, of Red Bank, chairman of the Mahoney fund, was master of ceremonies. His excellent explanation of the rules of the sport and his humorous remarks were appreciated by the spectators, who responded very well by contributing toward the fund.

FERGUSON DEFEATS MAHONEY

 * GLANCING BACK *
 * AT THE TOURNEY *
 * Some Notes Gleaned at the *
 * Moline Tournament and *
 * Convention. *

Evan Miller was one of the "busy boys" at the tournament. He took care of the charts on which were registered the scores and percentages. And it's a mighty big job!

L. E. Tanner was compelled to use a cigarette paper in making a hair-line decision in one game.

Welcome signs dotted the city of Moline. Large placards in the stores said "Welcome National Horseshoe Pitchers Association." And our stay in Moline revealed to us that they meant that word "welcome!"

Even though he threw 12 straight doubles, breaking what was then a world's record, Jimmy Risk was defeated in that game with Sac City's best, Guy Zimmerman.

The news reel boys took a lot of shots of the tournament and these are being shown in theaters throughout the country. They were brought to Moline through a suggestion made by the National association and much publicity will result. The news reel cameramen staged a tournament of their own, counting shoes within seven feet of the stake.

Jack Claves who manages a memorial burial park in St. Louis and who is a real horseshoe enthusiast must have felt at home in Moline. The new Moline courts are adjacent to a graveyard.

Addington, the tall Dunkirk, N. Y. lad, pitched at great disadvantage. He was treated for bloodpoisoning in his hand and was forbidden by the physician to pitch, but he pluckily finished all his games.

Who says 13 is an unlucky number? Ted Allen drew it in the tournament.

One of the unfortunate incidents was the misunderstanding that arose over the shoes used by Carl Hoff, of Lewisburg, Ohio, that caused him to have to pitch his qualifying round over. He had qualified among the first 24, but the tournament committee ruled that he must toss his shoes over since the shoes he was pitching were slightly outside the measurements required by the National rules. He was not in as good form and failed to get in the first flight on the second trial. W. L. Isaacs, Hamilton, Ohio, manufacturer of the shoes used by Hoff, declared he had misinterpreted the rules and immediately changed the shoes which Hoff used in the tournament. Isaacs declared that his dies had not been completed at the time and that the shoes will be placed on the market, meeting the national requirements.

In addition to building wonderful horseshoe courts, amply lighted, where the national meet was held, a new municipal swimming pool is under construction just across the street, in Riverside Park, from the tournament grounds. Mayor A. Henry Arp's administration is being praised for its interest in this direction.

The Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport, Ia., newspapers gave the tournament daily publicity.

Many were disappointed in not seeing Blair Nunamaker, Ohio champion, Fernando Isais, Mexican pitcher, and others in the line-up at Moline.

Canada had three representatives at Moline, Fred Harburn, John Riley and John Simon.

So many interesting games in the tournament brought to our mind many notes for the main tournament story but space prevents so detailed an account. Many took the Moline Dispatch, having it sent to their homes, and it gave daily, graphic descriptions of the game-by-game plays which cannot possibly be fully covered in a monthly publication. Ours is a job of perpetuating records and giving some of the high spots, as we see them.

Rain on Sunday and Labor Day cut down the attendance receipts for the Moline committee, but the Moline officials smiled and took it on the chin like men.

Many remarked about the low shoes pitched by R. H. Rizor, Michigan tosser, but it took a "quip" from the tongue of Charlie Davis, during a convention discussion, to bring laughter when Davis chided Rizor for "trying to cut the stakes off." Friendly humor broke many a tense moment in the convention sessions.

The new Moline courts are beauties. The picture printed in the last issue of the Horseshoe World was taken before the lights were installed, drinking fountain installed, and other finishing touches put on. We had hoped to print a new picture in this issue, but space won't permit.

Addington's trip from his home in Dunkirk, N. Y., was paid as he won the trip in a district tournament in Erie, Pa. He was accompanied by Earl Strick, of Erie, who is one of the game's best boosters in the Keystone state.

Rev. P. V. Harris, of Holden, Mass., came to Moline a bit late, but as usual entered into the full spirit of the tournament and renewed many friendships. He and Rev. E. V. Stevens, of Marlboro, Mass., are doing a great deal for the game in Massachusetts, Maine and other New England states. Rev. Stevens was one of the first to arrive in Moline and took an active and helpful part in the business sessions.

Jimmy Risk had an exhibition engagement in Brockton, Mass., and had little time to get there due to the slowing up of the tournament by rain. Frank Jackson left Moline for a series of engagements in Chicago and Ted Allen rolled eastward, planning to stop in Erie, Pa., to take on young Addington for an exhibition match. Where the other exhibitionists were going we did not learn.

The low mark that would let the boys step into the championship rounds was 242. This was the highest qualifying minimum in national tournament history and naturally it left many a famous horseshoe name in the second 24, who were dubbed the "night shift," since the Dispatch tourney was played under floodlights.

As might be expected by those who know of his fine personality, Jack Claves, St. Louis, Mo., who acted as assistant tournament manager and announcer at the tournament, again pleased the fans with his announcing. An amplifying system was used and it added much to the enjoyment of those watching the slipper slammers.

Due to the lack of space many items of interest, including state tournament results, are omitted from this issue, so just to keep you informed on what has happened we present these short paragraphs, with the promise of more details in the next issue or two:

Lester Allen wrestled the Clark

County, Ohio, title from Ray Brown at beautiful Snyder park courts recently.

The Honor Roll is omitted this issue. A lot of new names will be printed next month. Are you a member of the National Association? The fee, at present, is still $1.00. The new rate does not go into effect until 1936.

Irving Wood, of New Canaan, was recently crowned champion of Connecticut.

Former President Alex Cumming, of Minneapolis, sends his best regards and states that he hopes to be able to still boost the game, arrange matches for the exhibitionists or be helpful in any way.

Jim Griffin is the city champion of Steubenville, Ohio, and the proud possessor of the Fort Steuben Hardware trophy won recently.

We have the standing of the Stark county, Ohio, Horseshoe Pitchers Association for the close of the 1935 season. The Canton club won 13 games and lost one with the Rockstrohs coming in second, winning 12 and dropping two. More about this fine league later.

Marvin Clayberg, of Barnum, is the new Colorado champion. Mrs. Ralph Buchanan is the lady champion for the second time. More about this next month.

Ted Allen writes from New York City that he is having a great time in the big city. His eastern barnstorming tour is proving a big success.

Morris Wold, 22 year old Minot Teachers College student, is the new North Dakota champion.

Ted Allen, of Alhambra, Calif., recently won the Midwest National Horseshoe Tournament held at the Iowa State Fair, topping a field of 16 competitors in the finals.

James Cox, a 14-year-old lad recently won the Washington County Junior horseshoe tournament at Houston, Pa.

Art Thomas, of the Liberty club, Salt Lake City, recently won the Utah championship.

Okey Hosier recently won the Salem, Oregon, city championship.

Space will not permit us to print the results of the Massachusetts tourney and the news of the convention this issue. O'Shea, who pitched in the Moline tourney, won the championship again.

Giant Grip
Shoes

GIANT Grip Pitching Shoes are superior in quality to ordinary forged shoes. They are straight and finely balanced—they will absolutely pitch straight.

The hammer forging production makes it possible to forge the Shoes to the most exacting patterns, balancing weight—and keeping the Shoes straight. This process also thoroughly refines the steel, and they are tough and practically unbreakable—made in accordance with all official requirements in sizes and weights.

They're made in a variety of styles—the Champion, the newest "hook heel"—the Official and Winner, in plain patterns. All official shoes, only made in different patterns to suit individual tastes.

NEW ALUMINUM SHOE

A light regulation Shoe developed for pitching in regular courts and very popular with women and children—weight one pound. Made of Alcoa Heat Treated Aluminum—also unbreakable—can be pitched against iron stakes.

Play the game right, with Giant Grips. Write today for attractive 7-color folder.

GLANCING BACK AT THE TOURNEY

Some Notes Gleaned at the Moline Tournament and Convention.

Three pairs of husbands and wives took part in the tournament: Mr. and Mrs. Guy Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rust and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rose. Zimmerman and Rust pitched in the main go and Rose was entered in the Dispatch flight.

Some of the boys who had ties in the tournament pooled their prize money and split it 50-50, pitching off ties for position only. Davis and Zimmerman, for instance, tied for third and fourth moneys and pooled their prizes. In the pitch off Zimmerman defeated the former world champion.

It looked good to see Frank Jackson's smiling countenance in the meet. The old war horse was left out of the 1933 world's fair meet, failing to qualify, but he showed the boys that he is "still in the money" at Moline. Hansford Jackson, his son, failed to get in. Carroll Jackson did not attend, failing to leave exhibition engagements in the East.

Kindly remarks were heard from friends of Alex Cumming, Minneapolis, president of the National association for the past two years, and D. D. Cottrell, North Cohocton, N. Y. former secretary, both of whom were "fixtures" at national meets for many years, but who could not attend this year's event. B. G. Leighton, Virginia, Minn., former national official, also was unable to attend.

Leo Lattore's automobile attracted much attention. Leo has it all painted up with huge horseshoes on the sides and back and it is a beauty. The Horseshoe World camera (which did everything but get good pictures during the meet) caught a fairly good pose of Leo's trusty Ford and we think it is worth reproducing in some future issue of the magazine.

One of the courteous officials of the meet was the official ticket seller and general utility man, genial P. L. Wadman, of Moline. He and Evan Miller ate most of their meals at the hamburger stand on the grounds, refusing to leave their posts.

First figures of the tournament gave Theodore Allen a ringer average of 77.5 but a careful canvass of the scoresheets and rechecking of the charts cut his percentage down to 75.5. The higher average was reported to the press before the error was discovered. The recheck caused changes in the percentages of several other players also. The Horseshoe World believes the figures carried in this issue to be correct and to be official.

Massachusetts is setting its sails to get the 1937 tournament. Phillip

The Phalen club came out on top in the 1935 Commercial League play of the St. Paul Municipal Horseshoe Pitchers Association, winning 14 games with no losses. V. Miller of the Zendell Drugs had the high season average, winning 47 games and dropping only four with a ringer percentage of .530.

AT UNION CITY

At the Union City Tournament held recently, Bob Nester drew first prize; Carl Hoff, second, and Harris Thompson third prize. The first and last named are members of the East Dayton team, and Carl is a member of the Dayton, Ohio, Edgemont team.

GLANCING BACK AT THE TOURNEY

Some Notes Gleaned at the Moline Tournament and Convention.

Gilpatrick, of Quincy, Mass., who is "whooping it up" for horseshoes in the East and who was active in the convention sessions, has promised the rest of the states a race. Gaylord Peterson, secretary of the Illinois association, started in at the national meet collecting dues from the Illinois boys in his campaign to lead in the membership drive under the new national membership plan which will go in effect in 1936.

A wire from Dave Chess telling of the Ohio convention brought first-hand information to the Ohioans at the national meet and others interested in the Buckeye election and tournament.

Those who stayed at the LeClaire hotel, which was the headquarters hotel, were greatly pleased with the treatment received from Manager Harvey and his staff. We hope horseshoe pitchers everywhere will remember the LeClaire if they visit Moline.

Two Canadian Indians, John Riley and John Simon, entered the tourney. Fred Harburn, of Cromarty, Ontario, also was an entrant. Simon and Harburn made the Dispatch qualification. The good natured veteran, Riley, fell below the first 48.

Larry Mahoney, New Jersey ace, was accompanied to Moline by W. E. Santoro, the "man who makes things go" in New Jersey horseshoe circles. Larry who holds about all the titles he can "tote" in the East didn't make the first 24 but pleased the crowds with his pitching in the Dispatch meet. He is 15 years old. He's a mighty fine lad and is destined to go places.

WANTED—WINTER TOURNEY!

The offices of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association are diligently searching for a place for a 1936 winter tournament, preferably in some southern state. Any suggestions or help will be appreciated.

TWO OHIO TITLES

Blair Nunamaker, 1303 East 141st street, East Cleveland, Ohio, is again the champion of Ohio, and the open champion as well, having won both the Ohio State championship tournament at the splendid Wade Park courts in Cleveland August 31-September 2, and the Open Championship Meet at Lakeside earlier in August.

At the convention of the Buckeye State Horseshoe Pitchers Association officers were elected as follows: Dr. Alan R. Pottle, 206 Louis Block, Dayton, president; Mrs. Lester Allen, 1602 W. Pleasant street, Springfield, vice president; Dr. W. E. Dafler, 1433 E. Third street, Dayton, treasurer, and D. O. Chess, 6208 Quimby avenue, Cleveland, secretary.

Dr. Pottle, who was also elected a vice president of the National, has prepared an inspiring president's message which we will be unable to print in this issue due to lack of space. Look for it next month and watch Ohio grow.

"GORDON SPIN-ON" shoes lead the world in percentage of shoes used and high score percentages. There is a reason. Try them out and convince yourself.

The two new styles of shoes we are putting out this year have met the approval of the pitchers of the nation. Every mail brings us testimonials, praising the "Spin-On" Shoes and they are now used by the greatest array of champions the world has ever known. Frank E. Jackson, the man who has won more National Championships than all others combined, claims they are superior to anything that has ever been made in the way of a pitching horseshoe.
