World's Record Made with 1939 Model Ohio Horseshoes

You too can make records with Ohio Horseshoes.
A trial will convince you.

On Aug. 4th, Frank Phillips, of Topeka, Kans., former state champion pitched 100 ringers out of 100 shoes with 1939 model "OHIO" Horseshoes.

The following is from Buffalo (Mo.) newspaper of Aug. 5th, 1939:

HE KNOWS HIS HORSESHOES

Frank Phillips, of Topeka, Kans., set what is believed to be a world's record yesterday at Buffalo, Mo., when he scored a total of 100 ringers in 100 throws.

1939 GORDON "SPIN ON"

OUR 1939 HORSESHOES ARE MAKING RECORDS. All we did was to widen the Spin-On a little, and raise the height of the toe and heel calks, and have improved the method of heat treating. For general use, we recommend the medium temper, but for the best scoring the soft special temper are a little better, as the body of the shoe is a little softer, while the heel calks are harder, and will stand up better.

A number of new crowns are tilted on the heads of champions named during the summer . . . it's fine to see some new names in the list . . . it means that interest will continue as long as there is opportunity for new pitchers to win . . . it seems that none of these state champions can quite get to the place where they can worry our national champ, Ted Allen, but it will happen some day . . . no harm to you, Ted, of course, as we hope you keep it a million years but somebody's sure to knock that crown off sooner or later . . . Ted is still giving exhibitions and doing the game a lot of good . . . all exhibition artists are creating good will for the sport . . . one of the nice letters we had recently is one from Mr. Steadman, of Canada . . . he is a real gentleman and horseshoe pitching has brought a lot of Canadians and Americans just a little closer . . . after all, it is a friendly game and the comradeship is worth more than medals and cups.

AN EARLY START HELPS

No sooner has the summer and fall pitching subsided when it becomes necessary to make our plans for 1940.

Now is the time for all clubs and associations to hold meetings, to draft plans for the winter indoor pitching and to make ready for the Spring season. It isn't a bit too early and it is safe to say that your 1940 season will be far more successful if you begin planning it now.

See your park commissioners about new courts. See your fair board about a tournament—in fact, make all such contacts this winter so that enough time will be given to give full consideration to your suggestions. Today's ideas will become tomorrow's realities.

LONG ISLAND STATE PARKS CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The closing of the summer horse-shoe pitching season for Long Island came to a close at 5:20 P. M. E. D. T. Sunday Sept. 24th, practically at the instant of the official ending of summer, when 14-year-old Jimmy Ruggles, of Whitstone, N. Y., was declared the winner of the Long Island State Park championship, which was held at Hempstead Lake State Park, under the direction of Mr. E. Yulister, Recreation Commissioner and his staff from the Long Island State Parks.

This year's entry was the largest in the history of the Long Island State Parks Tournament, which is open to all residents of Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

The big surprise in this contest with its 52 entries was the low qualifying score made by some of the leading horseshoe pitchers, which caused the downfall of V. Filleccia, H. Christy, A. Wracks, E. Beaton, M. Belsky, H. Schlee and E. Skellington, as contenders for the honored title of Long Island.

Ruth Allen led the field in the qualifying round with 122 points out of 50 shoes, making 38 ringers, 8 shoes within 6 inches, and 4 wild shoes.

The following are the results of the qualifying round of 50 shoes:

| | Points |

STEINFELDT IS NEW YORK CHAMP

The New York State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament which was held at Playland Rye Beach Sept. 2, 3, 4, was won by Carl Steinfeldt, Rochester, N. Y., defeating the defending state champion, young Bill Hamann in the finals, although Hamann won more games and had a higher ringer percentage than our new champion, Carl Steinfeldt.

The Class B was won by Al Halzhauer, of Schenectady.

The outstanding games of the tournament were three games by Bill Hamann and one by Al Cape. Hamann's ringer percentage in the three games were 84.6, 86.9 and 89.9. Cape's was 86.8.

There is also to be remembered, the 15-year-old boy, T. Brownell, of Gloversville, N. Y. who made a great showing at the tournament and looks like a coming champion.

A lot of credit must be given to the sponsor, Gus Rasacco, Playland, and the Tournament Committee, Frank T. Hanlon, chairman, B. C. Hamann, statistician, Miss Doris Russell, John Thompson, and Worth Johnson, assistant statistician, Page Schavel, field supervisor, Andy Seaman, referee, Oliver Louis, host Fred Egger and Paul Morris, publicity, who all worked hard to make the tourney a success.

On Sunday evening, September 3, a meeting was held of all the horseshoe pitchers that had come to the tournament from all parts of the state, at the Recreation Hall, at White Plains. It was decided that no convention be held until the 1940 state tournament.

The summaries:

WOODLAWN WINS HONORS

Charlie Kuykendahl and Eddie Brehms, both members of the Woodlawn Horseshoe Club won a gold and silver medal respectively as the result of the tourney held in connection with the dedication exercises of the Play Area at Van Cortland Park.

The event was a six man round robin tournament consisting of five games played by each contestant.

The contestants were all members of Bronx Horseshoe clubs namely, Kuykendahl and Brehms, of Woodlawn, T. McGuire and P. O'Reilly, of St. Marys, and W. Dooge and J. Tooman, of Crotona Horseshoe Club.

HOW ABOUT IT, CASEY?

Someone has written us to inquire how many times Casey Jones has won the Wisconsin championship. We don't know. How about it Casey?

BORRESON WINS CLASS A TITLE

Otto Borreson, former Neenah city champion, captured the Appleton and central Fox River Valley Class A championship, on the Pierce Park courts, Appleton, Wis.

Borreson was entered as a Class B contestant and won first honors with seven straight wins in the round robin competition. He then resigned his title in the afternoon when a Class A entrant failed to appear, and pitched another seven straight wins against no defeats to cop the title. He won the George Walters Adler Brau trophy for one year.

With Borreson resigning his Class B honors, Ambrose Plucker, Neenah who finished second, was given the title. He won six and lost one.

The Class C event was a ding-dong affair. It was by far the closest, if not the best tournament of the day. Gehring took the lead, Peterson moved up and a three-way tie for first place appeared imminent. The fine pitching of Peterson under pressure decided the issue in the last round.

In the feature matches, Lawrence Riede, Oshkosh, defeated Otto Borreson, 51-19, Don Benjamin, Neenah, defeated Carl Riede, Oshkosh, by the score of 52 to 40. In the deciding doubles match the Oshkosh combination defeated the tourney leaders by the close score of 52-43.

Starting promptly at 8 o'clock, with the Class B and alternate Class B contenders taking the courts and all through the day to the final events at 5:30, the large tournament offered something new to the sport enthusiasts of Appleton and this locality.

Louis Lang was director of the Class A group, Billy Kiley was director of Class B, and Paul Grignon was in charge of Class C contenders. W. D. McDaniels, of Oshkosh, was the master of ceremonies.

Commissioner McGovern Horseshoe

Tourney Won By Hume

Clare Hume won the Jersey City Horseshoe Pitching title in the tournament sponsored by Commissioner William J. McGovern, Director of Parks and Public Property for Jersey City, and held at Audubon Park.

In the Class A finals, Hume made a sweep of his seven games, pitching 153 ringers out of a total of 264 shoes for an average of 58 per cent. John Peters was second, winning five and losing two games. Charles Hines and Chris Bentsen tied for third place, and Hines won the playoff. Frank Brady, Claude Hart, Albert Vietmeyer and Frank Scanlon finished in the order mentioned.

The Class B finals, held at Pershing Field resulted in a three-way tie for first between Karl Reich, Albert Barnes and Walter Buck, each with five wins and two losses. Darkness prevented a play-off and Reich was declared the winner on his ring-average of 28.66 per cent, followed by Barnes with 28.48 per cent, and Buck with 22.1 per cent. William Renahan, Thomas Ellis, Theron Templeton, George Phillips and Andrew Olsen finished in the order mentioned.

Commissioner McGovern will award the prizes at the Hudson County Horseshoe Club, 671 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, in the near future. The tournament was under the supervision of Mr. Frank Deisler, Superintendent of Parks and Playgrounds, assisted by Benjamin Murphy and Claude Hart of the Hudson County Horseshoe Club.

I first took up the game of horseshoes in the summer of 1920. I played with shoes actually worn by a horse and discarded. I pitched at stakes just driven into the ground temporarily, and at different distances every day; and each game pitched was more of a debate over the score and ways of scoring than a contest. On my street we used an intricate scoring system, giving five for a ringer, three for a leaner, ten for a stander, fifteen for a hammerlock and 20 for a semaphore. On the next street over, the fellows used an entirely different system of scoring while three blocks away, a third system was used. A team match between the fellows from two different streets can be imagined. Instead of attracting spectators to witness skill, it was more apt to draw the police to quiet the racket. Horseshoe pitching was far from being a dignified sport then.

Just the other day I met a boyhood chum whom I hadn't seen for years, and almost the first thing he mentioned was the arguments we used to have over horseshoe games in the old days. "But," he said, "all that argument ended in 1922 when they printed those horseshoe rules in the paper, remember?"

I did remember, and was very grateful to whoever it was that made those rules, because they saved me a lot of arguments, and they made the boys on the next street, and on the third street over all play the same way, and we could have team matches without going through a lot of quarreling.

Then my friend asked me how the horseshoe game was coming, and I replied that it would take a long time to answer that question, because while the game is improving in some parts of the country, it is slumping somewhat in some other parts.

I explained it to Bill in this way: "You remember," I said, "How the game went in our end of town? After those new rules came out, we formed a regular team league in our district, and had almost a hundred players in it in 1922. We had a great boom in the game for a while but it gradually died down until only a few out of that bunch continued to play."

"And now," interrupted Bill

"You're the only one who is still keeping it up."

"Yes," I answered, "out of that hundred, I'm the only one who became a devoted horseshoe man. It's the same all over. Only about one out of every hundred who tries it sticks to it. It's a hard game to learn, and a hard game to organize, and still harder to KEEP organized."

"Why is it hard to keep things organized?" asked Bill.

"Because," I answered, "those who play the game forget one important point. The game today owes its standing and present popularity to the fact that a few real hard working people started the National Association and gave the horseshoe pitchers a set of uniform rules, and made it possible for the game to become universal. They gave the game the dignity it lacked. Those fellows who do not want to support the organization seem to forget that without that organization there would be no game. While they might retire to their own back yard and pitch, I'll bet ten to one that they would still use the rules as given by the National, thereby putting their unconscious approval on them, and showing their unspoken gratefulness for those rules."

"Yes," broke in Bill, "it's a funny world. 'Guys who really like the game shouldn't squawk about a few measly cents a year to keep the game up when they spend more than that for a show or throw more than that away in a few minutes in a pin-ball game.'"

"No, they shouldn't," I replied, "but they do. And more than that, they seem to think that someone is trying to steal something from them by asking them for a few cents to try to keep up a great sport. I can show you letters from two states that a couple of years ago were the leading two states for members, and these letters both say that those states are dropping out of the National Association because they don't think the National is doing anything for them."

"Is that so?" asked Bill in surprise and then he added, "Don't they realize that if all the states drop out there wouldn't be any National Association, and if there were no National, there would be no game unless someone started up another National Association?"

There was no answer from me to this question, for there cannot be an answer to such a question.

You states, and you pitchers who are contemplating withdrawing your support ought to give a moment's thought to what kind of game you would have without any central authority. You ought to remember, as I do, who it was that gave you this game of horseshoe pitching—who it is that keeps it going, and what will happen if you fail to do your part to support it.

All I ask is that you give me a year to get things going. Let's make 1940 the greatest year in horseshoe pitching history. WE ABSOLUTELY WILL HAVE A WORLD TOURNAMENT IN 1940. We will have a new idea put into effect by forming a National Team League. We will have a greater organization than ever before, IF all pitchers do their part.

DO YOUR PART! DON'T FAIL NOW THAT SUCCESS IS IN SIGHT!

Your secretary,
LEE ROSE.

RETAINS CITY TITLE

By winning nine consecutive games, Alvin Gandy retained his Topeka City championship and further strengthened his claim on the Senator Arthur Capper trophy cup. Gandy has to win it only once more to become permanent possessor of the cup.

Gandy had easy sailing in all the games and easily overcame his arch rival, Frank Phillips, 50 to 32. Mr. Phillips, the elongated "slipper slammer" took an early lead of 16 to 1 at the end of eight innings. Gandy then settled down to his natural groove and smacked on 44 out of the last 52 shoes pitched thereby clinching the title. Phillips who claims a record of 100 ringers in 100 shoes, was only able to hit 687 in this game.

The crowd had anticipated a hectic struggle, but it failed to materialize. So once again the curtain falls on Topeka horseshoe activity and the popular Mr. Gandy is still king.

Mr. Phillips won second, Fred Petrik, third. Gandy averaged better than 77 per cent for nine games.

LONG ISLAND NEWS

By J. J. Enright

In the Long Island Daily Press

It is the rule, rather than the exception, that "anything can happen in a horseshoe game," and the average pitcher is nothing if not an optimist. That the game's "form" can be charted with enough accuracy and decimals to satisfy an Einstein (or "Clocks" Carson himself) proves nothing at all. Horseshoes, like a sweepstake ticket, gives everyone a chance to win.

Nevertheless, it has been many a season since anyone witnessed so cockeyed a tournament as last Sunday's battle for the Long Island championship at Hempstead Lake State Park. The following summary speaks for itself.

Final Round

|-------------|--------|---|------|
| J. Ruggles |7 | 1 | 58.8 |
| Ruth Allen |6 | 2 | 54.6 |
| F. Hessler |5 | 2 | 51.0 |
| V. Kestel |4 | 3 | 44.2 |
| E. Henrichs |3 | 4 | 48.6 |
| P. McGill |2 | 5 | 43.0 |
| R. Ziegler |2 | 5 | 40.0 |
| E. Coleman |0 | 7 | 35.7 |

Consolation Round

A. Wracks, 218 points; V. Fileccia, 216; H. Christy, 199; P. Beaton, 198; J. Maloney, 195; L. Queret, 185; M. Belsky, 184; F. Kappleman, 173.

To say that the tournament was a fragrant bouquet of upsets and surprises does not detract from the performance of young Jimmy Ruggles. His victory was no fluke. Since winning his first gold medal two years ago, Jimmy's shoe progress has been consistent and convincing. That he survived the Alphonse and Gaston qualifying round and went on to take the 1939 title and trophy, certifies him as a strictly Grade A product.

Equally bonafide was the showing of Ruth Allen, who finished third last year behind Fileccia and Belsky. One of these days Ruth will shake off the jinx that has balked her winning a tournament in her native Nassau.

Fred Egger promises that "Rip" Gallagher, Bruna Hamann, Frank Gamble, Lou Ziegler, Tom O'Gara, Lou Lenhardt and other double-ring-dignitaries of the metropolitan game will decorate the dais at tonight's dinner of the West Hempstead Club at the Gables Tavern, Franklin Square.

Ted Allen gave an exhibition at Hempstead Lake last Sunday. There is a fancy pay-as-you-pitch horseshoe layout on World Fair boulevard. Commissioner Valentine has okayed the construction of six new horseshoe courts at the police department's vacation colony in Tannersville.

Bob Ziegler, the Sandwich Kid, wants to amalgamate the Fort Greene and Sunset Park clubs, but Dan Salvesen says he's opposed to monopolies. Dan has just recruited Ray Harmon, former Illinois state champion.

Whitestone and St. Albans, with new indoor setups in the making, are still dickering with the landlords. Both clubs are ready to start digging before the ink dries on the first month's rent receipt. College Point is also contemplating winter quarters.

THANKS, PITCHERS!

I want to take this opportunity of thanking all the horseshoe pitchers everywhere for their splendid co-operation while I was president of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association.. It was my pleasure to meet many of you personally and I have enjoyed the friendship of countless others whom I have had correspondence with. I hope that my interest in horseshoe pitching will cause our paths to cross again many times.

Thanks to all for your help in a difficult task which I thoroughly enjoyed.

L. E. TANNER, Anchor, Ill.

ADDS ANOTHER!

Larry Mahoney, of Lincroft, N. J., state horseshoe pitching champion, added the New Jersey open title to his long list when he won the title at Middletown on September 17th. Larry had little trouble with his opponents, none of whom scored more than 26 points except Vito Feleccia, of Brooklyn N. Y., who held the lead to 43 points at which point Larry dropped on five doubles to win 50 to 43. Mahoney's ringer percentage for the seven games was 70.4 per cent.

Class A pitching was featured by two youngsters, 14 years of age, Art Scolari, of Paterson, N. J., and Jimmy Ruggles of Whitestone, Long Island, who finished in third and fourth places with ringer averages of 59.2 and 62.7 respectively. Scolari had three games over 60 per cent, with a high of 71.3 per cent; and Ruggles had four over 60 per cent, with highs of 71.8 and 76.4 per cent.

Class B ended in a threeway tie, with first place going to William Kolb of Newark, N. J., on points, with Walter Duvalois of West New York, in second place, and Joe Puglise, of Paterson, N. J., in third place.

Class C was won by Peter Beaton, of Elmhurst, Long Island, who made a clean sweep of his games, with George Zeman, of North Bergen, N. J., finishing second, losing only one game, to Beaton.

Class D also ended in a tie between Vincent Fittin, of West Orange, N. J., and Leon Quert, of Maspeth, N. J. with Fittin finally being declared the winner. The games in this class were very closely contested, the losers scoring over 40 points in more than one-half the games.

This tournament concluded the season for the state association and brought to a close a very successful season for horseshoe pitching in the state. Membership in the association increased nearly 60 per cent over 1938, with a number of new clubs becoming very active. Three leagues completed schedules, and the title of state team champion goes to the Paterson, N. J., team for the

HENSON CHAMP IN CAPITAL TOURNEY

Clayton C. (Boo) Henson of Arlington, wears the horseshoe pitching crown of Metropolitan Washington, but not jauntily. At least a flipper has come forward to challenge the supremacy of the sturdy young Virginian who for years has been without a serious rival in the ringer competition of this section.

Come another season and Henson's chief worry probably will not be Harold Ronning, of Washington whom he defeated in the final of The Star's 11th annual tournament in the National Capital Parks courts, but Irwin Carlberg, the frail-looking Washington champ.

In the metropolitan semi-finals, Henson dropped two to Carlberg in possibly the most brilliantly pitched contest in the history of the tournament. In winning three games to two, Henson banged on 65 per cent ringers and Carlberg 63 per cent, Henson taking the first game, Carlberg the next two and the Virginian the final pair.

With the battle at its hottest, they matched 11 consecutive ringers and in many innings all four shoes circled the stake. In the end, it seemed, Henson's stamina settled the issue. The scores were:

|----------|---------|----|----|----|----|
| Henson |50 | 44 | 33 | 50 | 50 |
| Carlberg |29 | 50 | 50 | 38 | 39 |

Tossing 65 per cent ringers against 60, Henson won four straight games to down Ronning in the final, but the whipping was no great disappointment to the big, imperturbable Washington flipper. That he reached the final was the big surprise of the tournament, and to have given Henson a real scrap was, for him, a noteworthy achievement.

The scores:

| | | | | |
|---------|---------|----|----|----|
| Henson |50 | 50 | 50 | 50 |
| Ronning |27 | 38 | 30 | 43 |

Of keen satisfaction to Ronning was a quarter-final victory over Harry Saunders of Washington the defending champion. The evening before rain halted their contest with each having a game and Ronning in front by 11-9 in the deciding skirmish. This Ronning won by 50-38, putting on 56 per cent against Saunders' 53. Veteran horseshoe observers noted a marked change in the losing champion's style. Where formerly he pitched with rhythm and confidence, last night he was almost painfully slow in the windup and swing.

Ronning Trims Howery

To reach Hensen, Ronning defeated Charley Howery of Virginia in a tough battle, the scores being 36-50, 50-38, 50-44, 50-25. Ronning threw 63 per cent and Howery about 54 per cent.

A sizeable gallery stuck with the show until close to midnight. The Star trophies were presented by Edward Kelly, administrative assistant to Frank T. Gartside, acting superintendent of the National Capital Parks Service, which co-operated with a will in the staging of the tournament.

Those receiving trophies were: Henson, Northern Virginia and metropolitan district champion; Carlberg, Washington champion; Lee Fleshman Southern Maryland champion; Howery, Virginia runner-up; Roy Wilson, Washington runner-up; Temple Jarrell, Maryland runner-up; Ronning, metropolitan runner-up and Walter Haley of Washington, for winning the bowling championship of the ringer flippers.

TAKEN BY WESTON

Quincy, Mass.—In a final play-off that was held one day ahead of schedule, Paul Weston, 1938 champion, retained his horseshoe throwing championship at the St. Moritz courts last night as he out-tossed three competitors in a round robin tournament to decide the titleholder.

Weston, winning each of his three battles, was in rare form as he paced the field in every department. His percentage in the ringer department showed a final result of 68.8 per cent, which included a percentage of over 82 per cent for one game.

Russell Sweeney, second place winner was also runner-up to Weston from all angles, gaining second place over Russell O'Brien, while Gerald Ryan trailed the field.

Weston tossed 121 ringers in the three-game tourney, including 41 double ringers while Sweeney had 97 ringers with 31 double ringers.

NEW 1939 MODEL TED ALLEN HORSESHOE STRONGER NOTCHES

Our 1939 and 1940 model shoes are already on the market. The latest is a reinforcement of the side notches, and a complete elimination of the toe notches to strengthen any weakness there. So confident are we in this new shoe, made of nickel steel, that we are putting a special guarantee on each pair.

Witness the five world's records made by Ted Allen, World's Champion since 1933, in tournament play at Des Moines last summer. Can there be any doubt but what the Allen shoe, with the legal ½-inch slant to caulks is superior to any? More records than these have been made in the short time it has been on the market.

Attention, World's Tourney Players

We will give to the four pitchers doing the best with this shoe at the next World's Tournament, also at Des Moines, $50 in cash—1st, $20; 2nd, $15; 3rd, $10, 4th, $5.

Heat treated for hard, medium, soft and dead soft.

$2.25 per single pair. No postage required on single pair. In larger lots, prices reduced.
