Just Among Ourselves

Well it's a long time between issues . . . too long, folks, but we have to blame it on to the Axis and hope we can "hold together" until we can return to normal and begin publishing monthly again . . . good thing we cut down on the issues . . . soon after we decided that, the WPB ordered a curtailment in use of paper by magazines . . . so we are more than doing our part and we thank our loyal readers for their patience and consideration also . . . here's an idea . . . maybe you have some extra horseshoes you don't need . . . why not run a small advertisement in the next issue of the Horseshoe World or donate them to an army camp? . . . the boys in the service are having a hard time getting shoes and stakes. . . . Bet Pop Woodfield keeps on until he has the Washington offices of the armed forces recognizing the value of the game and that every camp will have courts . . . just because we don't visit you so often don't let that keep you from writing

Winter Number 1943

Horseshoe Pitching Goes To War!

Like everything else the game of horseshoe pitching has gone to war.

Just look at this issue and you will see that almost every letter we receive tells of another boy in the service. It's nice to note also that some of our better players are spreading the gospel of horseshoe pitching by teaching their buddies to pitch.

Every training center of the Army, Marines and Navy should have horseshoe courts. The game is clean, healthful and worthwhile. Tell your superior officer you want to pitch horseshoes during the leisure hours—if any.

OUR READERS COME FIRST

In publishing THE HORSESHOE WORLD, our readers come first. The magazine is printed quarterly for them and every article is run with the idea of interesting them. Suggestions to the editor for the betterment of the magazine are always welcomed.

The time that your magazine expires is printed on the address slip, directly after your name, showing the month and the year

TED ALLEN IS PITCHING IN THE ARMY

Ted Allen, who held the spotlight for so many years as world's champion horseshoe pitcher, is in the army now. He was inducted December 7 and on December 20 wrote the Horseshoe World giving his address, which we hope hasn't been changed — so write him there.

His address is Private Joseph "Ted" Allen, No. 37-339-346, Co. E, 106 Bn. M.R.T.C., U.S.A., Camp Robinson, Ark.

Ted was planning to give an exhibition for the boys and we presume he has been in demand. He and his wife gave an exhibition at that camp while appearing with the rodeo a good while ago. While there he jokingly told Alvin Gandy, former Kansas state champ, who was at the camp "I'll be seeing you soon," little knowing he would be seeing him soon—and in uniform.

That old lucky 13 is still following Ted. He drew 13 twice in the national tournament and won. He asked for it another year and won. There were 13 in his induction class chosen to train at Camp Robinson and they were lucky enough to be assigned to first class Pullman train service to one of the finest training centers in the land. When he arrived they started to put him and five of his Boulder, Colo., buddies in Hut No. 13 but it was full.

GATE CITY CLUB

The Gate City Horseshoe Club of Greensboro, N. C., is a wide-awake organization. The following is information given in outline form by Jim Day, Athletic Director of the city of Greensboro, regarding the Gate City club:

Gate City Horseshoe Club

Organized—September 1, 1942.

Purpose—To promote the game of horseshoe pitching, to encourage sportsmanship, and as a recreational activity.

Affiliation — National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association.

Sponsoring Organization — City Recreation Department.

Courts—Four outdoor courts (more to be added later) Four indoor courts (all of these meet regulations).

Tournament—The summer of 1942 a tournament was held for the first time in four years. There were three divisions, championship, B division, and junior division. The total number of entries was one hundred and twenty-five. Arthur Wright won the singles championship with a ringer percentage of 48%. All of our members are in the older groups with the exception of three of our oldest members. One member is 59 years old, and the youngest is 20. This would mean that our club will lose four members to the armed forces.

League Play—This winter on the indoor courts we have organized teams and this practice will continue through the Summer, the number of pitchers will be doubled many times.

Night Play — The Recreation Department is working on lights for the outdoor courts and if conditions will permit there will be lighted courts.

SUBSCRIPTION AWARDS

Through the courtesy of Alvin Dahlene, Kansas champ, subscriptions to the Horseshoe World have been sent to these tossers in the Eastern Oklahoma tournament.

William F. Towne, of Claremorex, for the highest qualifying score. He scored 116 points in the 50 shoe pitch, tossing 35 ringers for an average of 70%.

Ralph Randall, 708 South Galveston, Tulsa, for pitching the highest percentage game—64%.

BRONX CLUB NEWS

The Williamsbridge Horseshoe club of the Bronx, New York, is planning for the 1943 season.

Some of the 1942 season results were: Class A—Williamsbridge 15, Parkchester 1; Williamsbridge 10, Inwood, 6; Williamsbridge 13, Woodlawn 3. Class B—Williamsbridge 14, Parkchester 2; Williamsbridge 12, Inwood 4; Williamsbridge 12, Woodlawn 4.

One of the players, Jack Kierrian is 78 and another, William Schwazer is 69.

Harry Lemmon, 4085 Ely avenue, Bronx, New York, has some fine 8 mm. movies of the club in action which he shows at the club meetings. Other clubs interested in these movies should write him.

FILECCIA IN CAMP

Vito Fileccia, New York State champion in 1936 and 1937 is now Private Vito Fileccia, Headquarters Det. 10th Q. M. T. Reg., Camp Lee, Va.

Pvt. Fileccia is doing a lot to interest the men at Camp Lee in horseshoe pitching. He says there is a shortage of regulation shoes and stakes but he is doing the best he can.

The following newspaper clipping tells of an event that is now history but it gives an idea of how horseshoe pitching is spreading in the camps:

With Pvt. Vito Fileccia, Camp Lee horseshoe pitching champion as the center of interest, the 10th Regiment will stage the camp's first indoor horseshoe pitching exhibition and match in the near future in Bldg. T-607.

The 10th has arranged for "Pop" Woodfield, president of the National Horseshoe Pitching Association to attend the exhibition and Mr. Woodfield will bring J. P. Hensen of Washington, D. C., with him to play an exhibition game with Pvt. Fileccia. Hensen is current champ of Washington.

Fileccia, wizard of the whirling shoes, will entertain the audience with an assortment of tricks which will include pitching ringers over a wrist watch, setting bare inches from the peg, and having one of his friends hold his chin on the peg while a ringer slides under said chin.

That seems like touchy business, but Fileccia's long experience guarantees safety for the watch and chin. His record includes the New York state championship, Eastern States championship, and Long Island championship.

Later, the 10th will challenge any doubles or singles team in Camp Lee, officers or men.

WISCONSIN STATE TITLE GOES TO JONES

The 1942 Wisconsin State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament was won by "Casey" Jones of Waukesha. There were 35 entries. Each contestant pitched 200 shoes counting the highest 100 for his qualifying score.

Casey Jones set a new state record with 278—90—40. His first 100 shoe pitch was 254—82—34. The 24 high qualifiers entered the finals. In the first eliminations, players qualifying 19 to 24 were matched with players 13 to 18. These six winners played players 7 to 13. These six winners and the six high qualifiers entered the final round robin. Stanley Kivlin of Madison, last year's runner up to Harvey Elmerston for the championship, furnished the big thrill of the tournament when he handed Casey Jones of Waukesha the first defeat that Casey got in a round robin and then went on to beat Elmerston in the final round.

A. J. Klement of West Allis and Walter Eck of West Allis were elected president and secretary for the coming year. This was the 19th annual tournament.

Past champions are, 1924, Seymour Johnson, Madison; 1925, Floyd Billings, Waukesha; 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, Harvey Elmerston, Milwaukee; 1932, 1933, Harold Sheets, Waukesha; 1934, Harvey Elmerston, Milwaukee; 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, Casey Jones, of Waukesha; 1941, Harvey Elmerston, Milwaukee; 1942, Casey Jones of Waukesha. (In 1923 a state tournament was held which was not conducted by the state association and won by a man named Mitchell.)

"BOO" HENSON IS A GREAT SHOE PITCHER

Clayton (Boo) Henson of Arlington, who again won the Metropolitan Washington title in the Evening Star tournament last summer, is quite a lad.

He rates well with Rod Thomas, friend of horseshoe pitching and fine sports editor of the Evening Star, thus getting much space in the Star. All of which is good for horseshoe pitching.

But let's have Francis E. Stan complete this personality sketch of a grand player, as told in the Evening Star:

It would have been pretty hard for Henson to be anything except a horseshoe pitcher. He is one of the best bowlers around town and a few years ago he played high school, academy and semipro football. But Boo's dad was a blacksmith and almost as soon as the boy realized that, without the horse attached he could throw a shoe, he began doing so.

Boo is a self-taught pitcher, who passed rapidly through the fling-and-pray period and entered the world of science as applied to barnyard quoits. About six years ago he discovered that a one-and-three-quarter turn off the left foot was down his alley. "You shouldn't change after you feel you've got a good style," he says. News shorts of champion pitchers and, later actual competition against the champions helped him develop his style.

After 18 years of pitching shoes, real ones hot off the hooves and the regulation kind which are almost as heavy as Whirlaway's jockey, Henson figures he's approaching his peak, a theory at which his backers sniff.

He may get better, they concede, but he's good enough now and the reason why he's never done better than finish ninth, nationally, is because he won't prepare.

Boo's been to four nationals. Five years ago he jumped into his jalopy and, after driving all day and night, he arrived in Chicago at 7 a. m. An hour later he was pitching. The next year he drove to Moline, Ill., arriving late the night before the tournament. He did the same thing the following year, when the national was held at Des Moines. Last year, traveling by train but arriving none too soon, he made his best showing.

Boo says the best horseshoe pitcher in the world is Fernando Isais of Mexico City, present champion. "I played him twice", reports Boo. "First time I averaged 80 per cent ringers but he won, 50-28. Next time I averaged 81 per cent and he won by the same score. He's the nearest thing there is to perfection."

When Boo's at home, and not pulling up to a tournament court 2,000 miles away with a screeching of brakes, he's tough for anybody to beat. For years now some of the best pitchers in the business have been playing him in exhibitions in Washington and Boo's yet to lose. He humbled Jimmy Risk, former national amateur champion, in four out of five games.

He won four out of six games from Bill Kolb, New Jersey State and Eastern open champ, and a couple of years ago in St. Petersburg, Fla., he was near perfection personified in beating Blair Nunamaker, who for six or seven years was world champion.

He's Hot in Florida

"They held a 100-shoe exhibition for ringer average," he recalls. "I rung 97 of my 100 shoes, best I've ever done. People thought it was remarkable and I explained that, with no pressure on, it was easier to throw ringers. I guess they didn't take much stock in it because then I played against Nunamaker and averaged 97 per cent all over again."

Henson was as surprised as anybody at missing only 3 of 100 shoes from 40 feet. "What I didn't know was that the Florida climate was responsible. I was like an old race horse. They win in Florida and can't run around a corner up here. That sun just loosened me up." This could be so, because both of Henson's shoulders and several of his ribs were broken in football. Sometimes, when the weather's bad, he feels stiff.

Although he's been in approximately 200 tournaments and special matches, Boo thinks that in the next couple of years he will acquire more steadiness. "It looks like the good pitchers either are boy wonders or fellows about 35 years old," he says. "The boy wonders lack steadiness. When a few people around here called me a boy wonder I was averaging only about 50 per cent ringers. That was pretty good in those days, but anything under 80 per cent now isn't much in national competition.

"Most national champions are between 35 and 45. There are some real good pitchers between 50 and 60 but after a day or so they tire and get licked."

"CASEY" JONES TO THROW RINGERS AT THE AXIS

Great Lakes, Ill. (Special)—One of the world's champion horseshoe pitchers has decided to throw ringers at the Axis for the duration by enlisting in the Navy. He is Charles L. Jones, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, 505 Maple avenue, Waukesha, Wis., who is undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

Jones has been Wisconsin state champion for the past seven years. He won the national Olympic championship in Chicago in 1938, placed second in the national tournament at Des Moines, Ia., generally regarded as the world's championship meet, in 1940, and was third in 1939 and 1941. He has won every state tourney he entered, and was boy's champion from 1931 to 1935. He has been pitching for 13 years.

Some of the tricks which he has displayed before audiences in theatres throughout the country include knocking the ashes off a cigar in a man's mouth, throwing a ringer over a blanket, and lighting matches by pitching a horseshoe. His best record is 98 ringers out of 100 attempts.

Jones entered tournaments under the name of Casey Jones. He attended Waukesha high school and worked in a foundry before enlisting in the Navy. He is in Company 1836 here.

"Right now," he said, "I would like to knock off a few Japs." He has a brother, Keith, 30, in the Army glider forces.

SUBSCRIPTION NOTICE

The Horseshoe World cannot be sent to a boy in the Army outside of continental United States unless we have on file a written request by the boy himself in our files, asking that the magazine be sent. So secure such a request if you want to send the Horseshoe World. This does not apply to the Navy or Marines or to men in the Army inside the United States.

THE O'REE BOYS

Left to right, Jack and Lloyd O'Ree who during 1942 have played 128 50 point games. Lloyd has won 91 games while his brother, Jack, coasted to an easy second place with 37 games in his win column. Lloyd's best record this year is 14 straight ringers, 36 ringers in 50 shoes and 64 of 100 ringers.

Send this issue to a boy in the service—or better yet send us a subscription for him.

IS IN WAR PLANT

The last word the Horseshoe World had from Alvin Dahlene, of Kansas, was that he was working in an ordnance plant near Lawrence.

He reports Richard Moore and Alvin Gandy, both A-1 Kansas tossers, are in the army. Gandy, several times state champion, is a corporal at Camp Robinson, Ark., and Moore is in the Signal Corps at Camp Crowder.

ROCHESTER BOYS

More horseshoe pitchers in the U. S. Army are: Pvt. Orié Pareschi, Kessler Field, Miss.; Pvt. Albert Cole, Camp Berkeley, Texas; C. H. Myers, Denver, Colo.; Doug Watson, of Rochester, N. Y., who won the Rochester city championship two days before he left for the army. Watson averaged 81% for six games in the finals.

Another Rochester service man is Pft. Earl F. Steinfeldt, Monroe, La.

AND THANK YOU!

A card from Harry T. Woodfield, president of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association says: "Swell business keeping the Horseshoe World in motion. Thank You!"

NO STATE MEET

Due to the war the Washington state tournament was postponed. "We have had good turnouts for the round robins each Sunday until snow came" writes C. O. Kittilson, of Yakima.

A GOOD IDEA

A number of clubs give the Horseshoe World as a prize in match games or tournaments. Winners in the Maine state tournament, for instance, were given a subscription.

IS FINE CHAMPION

Robert Courtwright, Kentucky champion, is a great tosser, says a message from our good friend, E. M. (Flash) Merchant of Louisville.

MAKES TRIP WEST

President "Pop" Woodfield of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association, Washington, D. C., made a trip to Des Moines in December. He consulted with horseshoe leaders in a number of places, making plans to keep the game as intact as possible during the war.

WANTED--PHOTOS

Would like to have photos of horseshoe pitching champions and their records, clippings of horseshoe events with name of newspaper and city in which it is published.
