EDITORIAL

Even though I do not expect anyone to congratulate me I want to call attention to the fact that this issue of The Horseshoe Pitcher completes five full years of publication. In all this time there were no combinations of doubling up two months in the one issue nor were there any failures of publication. In our sport of horseshoes, where the time of playing is limited, there is not an over abundance of news to publish but despite this fact we were able to turn out a magazine month by month without a miss. So, I am congratulating myself.

Some of this edition I have completed at home and expect to complete it while in Murray, Utah, between games. If I get good cooperation at Murray you will find the World tournament results in here this issue; otherwise it will not appear until September. I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

CONNECTICUT

By F. WAGNER

The Fairfield County Horseshoe Championship was held at Beardsley Park, Bridgeport on Sunday, June 21. Due to the intense heat entry was very poor this year, but those present had a very good time. This year the championship was won by a newcomer in tournament play. This being his third tournament. The new champion is Alex Popp of Byram, Connecticut. Second place was won by Joseph Blomquist of Old Greenwich, Conn., while third place was won by Ray Barrows of Bridgeport. In winning the title Popp won all his games and had a ringer percentage of 57%.

NEW JERSEY

By DOUG FOGAL, President N.J.H.P.A.

Borrowing Jersey's slogan of "First Again," city-slicker Joe Zichella, the up-and-coming New York horseshoe artist, ran off with his second straight fat Jersey tournament Sunday July 12, at Branch Brook Park, Newark. Winner of last months' Rosselet Memorial, Joe came through a tough field, losing only to Dale Carson, Baltimore 50—34, (78.9%-71.1%) to rack up the ivy covered crown steeped more deeply in tradition than any other tournament on the eastern circuit. This "oldest open" has been in annual competition since the birth of the Jersey association over twenty years ago. Zichella gained one leg on the trophy to join Carson as a one-third owner. T. P. O'Gara, with a New York tradition of his own, made the presentation.

Top game of the day was pitched by the winner as he averaged 89.2% in dropping Terry Early 50—10. Carson placed second, losing to Bill Kolb, Newark, and John Fulton, Carlisle, Pa. Farmer Fulton, while placing only third, actually outsmarted the city boys by going home with the real bacon because the $80.00 piggy bank was sliced on the split-the-stakes plan and the Quaker Stater copped $28.70 to lead the pack Zichella took home $22.10 and Carson $13.90.

Class B was captured by Paul Hanas, Midland Park in easy, routine fashion with a 6—1 record, and Class C went to Jack Waltz, Keansburg, who survived three round robins for the title.

This meet was held under Jersey's popular no-qualifying plan, and the evenness of play indicated its value. At the midway point, four men were tied for first in A and in B at the finish, the second through seventh men were but one game apart. Regular play started at 1:30 and ended at 5:10. There was no need for the entrants to arrive before 1.00 P.M. and everyone, including the officials, had a good lunch and were finished in time for early supper. Eight man classes with no pre-match qualifying is certainly shaping up as the ideal answer to the many demands for Sunday sport that leaves the competitor time for breakfast, church and paper in the morning and still on his feet at the end of the day.

The no-Q Plan, coupled with split-the-stakes prize distribution (at one point Joe Zichella had an $11.00 Risk-on-the Line against Fred Lutter's 10c R.O.L., and at every point it had Editor Jake wearing a path between his seat and the score board) made the the Jersey open, though moss covered in tradition, one of the most modern, enjoyable and exciting tourneys every held.

RHODE ISLAND

Peter Heroux of Providence, R. I., won a three-way playoff to capture the Class "A" title in the annual Connecticut Open horseshoe pitching championship tournament at Beardsley park recently.

Heroux tied for first place in the regular round-robin competition with Ed Landry of Fall River, Mass., and Bill Kolb of Newark, N. J., as all three won eight games while losing only one. Landry took the runner-up prize in the playoff which followed, and Kolb placed third. Kolb had the highest ringer percentage among 10 contenders for the Class "A" title with a mark of 64.3 compared to 63.3 for Heroux and 62.2 for Landry.

Roy Jones won seven straight games without a loss to annex first prize in Class "B" competition. Frank Wagner of Stamford was runner-up with a 5—2 record and Bill Kamszik of Bridgeport placed third, following a playoff to decide a four-way tie.
