EDITORIAL

To all those readers whose subscriptions expire with this issue—if you want to be sure of getting complete coverage of the World's Tournament, be sure to use the subscription blank enclosed in this number and send it to me at once. With almost two weeks interval between the World's tournament at Murray, Utah and the Eastern National Tournament to be held in Clearfield, Pa. it would tend to insure larger attendance at both the tournaments this year.

If you look over the "Coming Events" column you will see that the Eastern part of the country is running a close second with the West as a horseshoe pitching center. If its popularity continues in the East I predict that it will not be far into the future before someone will make a strong bid for the World's Championship games to be played in that part of the country. Expect to attend both the National and the Eastern National so if you do not get prompt replies from me in answering your mail, just be patient and I will catch up to it. I'll be seeing you in Murray.

P.S.

Sorry readers, but this months issue was not proof read due to my going on vacation—with no time to get this magazine done.

COLORADO

By TED ALLEN

There is one very small and simple thing that each fan or horseshoe pitcher can do to help a great deal. This is the year to try it. Such a simple gesture yet very important from the viewpoint of the sports writers and editors.

All I ask of each one is to make a very easy phone call to the sports editor of one or every newspaper in your particular city. Ask whether or not they are going to carry the daily or final results of the World's tournament at Murray Utah, July 21-27th. Let them know you are much interested. Editors print what they think the public is interested in reading about.

We already know that many of the newspapers print horseshoe news in respect to and in cooperation with the local horseshoe clubs. But there are a great many that do not and are ignorant of the number of real enthusiasts of the game. I have been in many places where they promoted contests in the area in preparation for my exhibition and the editors were invariably amazed at the number of pitchers of all classes and one editor said that he never made so many friends as he did with horseshoe pitching promotion.

The suggested time for your call to the newspaper is from 2 days to two weeks before the tournament, or sooner if you think it best. I think this is an important way to promote it in national scope and let the newspapers know that there are more of us than they have been thinking. Let's all get behind this once and let us know how you came out on it.

IOWA

By C. HOPKINS

The Ioway Midwest Horseshoe Tournament held here Sunday, June 7th at Riverside Park Courts, Ottumwa, Iowa; 16 entrants played the Count-all system, narrowing down to 4 in Class A and 4 in Class B.

Harold Darnold of Burlington, Iowa and Harry Page of Waterloo, Iowa, won Class A and B respectively. Page won the trophy in the final play-off game over Darnold 50—49. Darnold hit 85.2% over John Paxton, of Ottumwa, 50—1.

Second place in Class A went to John Paxton, Ottumwa, Ia.; Third place Harold Shaw, What Cheer, Iowa; Fourth place Dale Dixon, Des Moines, Iowa.

Class B finals—1. Harry Page, Waterloo, Iowa, all wins in finals; 2. Hugh Rogers, Cedar Falls, Iowa; 3 Dale Stull, Traer, Iowa; 4. Francis Rogers, Cedar Falls.

Here are the results of the Iowa Open Horseshoe Tournament held in Birdland Park, Des Moines, due to the flood conditions at the Izaac-Walton League Courts.

Dale Dixon won the trophy for first place; Harold Shaw won a medal for second; and Harold Darnold also won a medal for third place.

KANSAS

By ALVIN DAHLENE

Marines Tamboer of Wichita, visited Lawrence on Memorial Day where he engaged in two horseshoe matches. He defeated Alvin Dahlene in the first match 3 to 0, but fell before the fine pitching of Roland Kraft, 3 to 0. Tamboer averaged 70 per cent for his games—Kraft 73.5% and Dahlene 68%. On the following Sunday Dahlene defeated Paul Hauseran of Topeka, American Legion Runnerup in 1952, 3 to 0. Kraft and Dahlene then met for a match which ended 2 games to 2. In one game Kraft racked up 14 consecutive double ringers.

Horseshoe pitching on the whole is very near dead in Kansas. We had a bad spring with nothing but cold weather and now that summer has arrived it is too hot to play much. The temperature is hitting around the 100 degree mark every day for the past two weeks and that isn't conducive to good pitching especially if you have to work hard all day long in some hot construction job. Oh how I long for those cool nights at Salt Lake City and Murray.

MAINE THAT HORSESHOE "GRAND" From Charley

Dear Mr. Editor:

The write has used third person designations for himself as well as for others in this letter. The 1,000 game enterprise for 1953 horseshoes between alphabetically named Charley Gerrish and Howard White has made unexpected appeal over wide parts of the country. Not only has local interest in this sports project been surprising, but far distant places have taken notice of the unusual endeavor. Indeed many wonder if such a marathon is quite possible. Letters come to the writer from different states, and a recent one from central Pennsylvania has especially asked for "blow by blow accounts." Our national magazine, The Horseshoe Pitcher, has also given some attention to their undertaking.

Efforts have been made for monthly reports on this grind of a "grand" of games in the local papers. The report for June is pretty weak, as progress toward the total was quite feeble. So the likelihood of the 1,000 game accomplishment looks rather slim, and the doubt of its being done looks stout. From 125 games at the end of May it went to only 158 for this year at near the end of June. We may wonder—is there a girl concerned in this slow-down, Howie?)

Another considerable pitcher, James Guyett of Dover, made a small June increase also playing against Gerrish. This competent tosser went from 94 in May to some 128 in June. A strong third member among local ringer rivals, Paul Tobey of Kittery Point, has emerged from a rather dark horse (if we may use the expression in connection with horseshoes) position, as his aggregate games with Gerrish went from only 24 at end end of April up to 195 in June. So Paul is well ahead of Howard on game quantity at present.

Some comparisons are interesting. Howard has won 37 to Charley 121. Jim 31 to C 97 (when C had 97 wins Howard had 24), Paul 22 to C 173. Paul suffered a run of 50 straight losses in June.

The zest and uncertain tensions that a tournament brings up were well illustrated in the recent N, H. Open Meet. In a round robin tourney you play each entry only one game. Though Gerrish had quite a margin over Tobey in their practice sessions, the former having made a string of thirty successive wins during a few days in May, yet Paul defeated Charley 50—48 in their tournament game May 24, tipping Gerrish over into second place in the final standings behind Landry whose only loss was also to Tobey that day. And Howard was within one point of second place over Gerrish in this same meet, as Gerrish won 50—49 in their contest of the New Hampshire event.

MINNESOTA

By Ken Huber

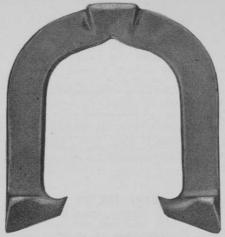

The following is a clipping from the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune.

In most places the time-honored sport of horseshoe pitching is pretty much a picnic or park pastime with little or no organization. Not so in St. Paul. There some 120 men toss horseshoes at least once a week as part of the St. Paul Municipal Horseshoe Pitchers' Association. It is the only organized horseshoe league in Minnesota and the largest per capita city horseshoe association in the country.

Now in its 19th consecutive year, the organization began in 1935 as the St. Paul Municipal Horseshoe League, which in turn was an outgrowth of a church league and a commercial league. By 1940 the league had grown to the point where it could build its own courts—16 of them with concrete walks—at Como Avenue and Elfelt Street. That Horseshoe park, with improvements, still serves the association. Players put up a heavy wire fence in 1949. In return the St. Paul parks and playgrounds department installed lights, enabling league play to begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue after dark.

Because the St. Paul association welcomes men from any city without a league, it now includes players from Minneapolis, Long Lake, Hopkins, Spring Lake Park, Fridley, Maple Plain, St. Louis Park, New Brighton and South St. Paul. This year there are 25 sponsored teams (sponsors furnish special shirts) of from four to six men each. Four leagues are in operation—the major league for top players boasting a percentage of at least 46 ringers in 100 tosses; city league for players with averages of 35 to 46 per cent; commercial league, 25 to 35 per cent; and merchants league, under 25 per cent.

The St. Paul association also is host to the state tournament, to be held Sept. 5-7 this year, and to the northwest tournament, which will be held July 31 and Aug. 1-2.

NEW JERSEY

By DOUG FOGAL, Pres. NJHPA

Joe Zichella, New York, captured the 6th annual John Rosselet Memorial Tournament, Sunday, June 14, at Warinanco Park, Elizabeth. High cross winds held down percentages but Zichella still managed a respectable 68.2 as he handily disposed of all opponents to sweep the field. John Fulton came down to the wire tied with Zichella at 8 wins each but lost out 50—31 in the final and key game of the match as he posted 37.9% against the winners 67.2% this was the first time Zichella has taken the title and he joins Dale Carson and Pat Brady as one-time winners. Fulton has held the trophy three times. A memorial award, it cannot be retired.

Class B was captured by Paul Hanas who swept his 6 games from a good field and Doug Fogal placed second, losing only to Hanas. Jack Waltz defeated Paul Puglise 50—49 in a playoff match for third.

The Rosselet Memorial is an annual affair held in Memorium to Lt. John Rosselet, former NJSHPA secretary, top flight pitcher, and NHPA Vice-President.

Two newcomers to the World's Championship games from the East will be Carl Steinfeldt, of Rochester, New York, the present New York State Champion. The other will be John Fulton, of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, present holder of the Pennsylvania State title.

On August 16th the Fort George H. C. will hold another open tournament. This is going to be a "Split the States" affair. Ever see one of these tournaments? You can finish with a barrel full or need a barrel to go home in!

Rock Island, Illinoise, cancelled their Labor Day tournament for this year. And after holding it regularly for the past twenty-six years.

The East York H. C. of Toronto, held an invitation tournament on May 30. Woodward was the winner with Mawson, Parfitt and Ginn finishing in that order.

New York Pitchers—Have you paid your National dues yet? George Hart, the secretary, of 559 West 191st Street will be glad to receive your buck and a half.

All you pitchers who gripe about having to qualify by pitching 100 or more shoes to get into a tournament should contact your secretary to send in your ringer percentages. So far this Summer the tournaments held in New Jersey and New York have done away with qualifying. Just went according to percentages on file for the individual pitchers. And what a time saver!
