EDITORIAL

By the time you receive this copy of The Horseshoe Pitcher it will be close to Christmas and New Year's Day. To all our horseshoe friends all over the country, the Missus and I want to wish you the best Christmas and the best, healthiest and prosperous times in the coming New Year that you ever had.

This is the time of year when I begin to worry about what I will be able to publish in the magazine during the "dead" season. Don't let me down boys! Send in your gripes and ideas for improvements in our game, then when the season opens again we may have something a bit better than what he have had.

MAINE

By C. S. GERRISH

Taking a pencil in each hand, we could strike off a few thousand words in regard to "count-all." There would be little pro, so we'll limit this brief to the con side. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here, but we can humbly speak our little piece in the good old U. S. A. Probably no writer can ever please everyone. This one no doubt sometimes doesn't please anyone. However, we hope the following points are not non compos or non mentis, and that they hold some common sense.

A drastic fault of Count-All is that it is not a game, so it takes away from horseshoe pitching the zest and competition of the game. This fact alone likely "throws it out of court" for most horseshoe pitchers. To throw 50 shoes each without canceling the like ringers, etc., is a very dull method. Non-cancel is non-game. It is something for a scorekeeper or a statistician. Two players may as well play on different courts or even in different cities.

A second failing of the 50 shoe count-all "game" is, that it is liable to come out a Tie Score. No game should end in a tie (and that opinion goes for football, basketball, etc.). Baseball going beyond nine innings proves this.

Another shining weakness of the 50 shoe count-all system is, that its Top Record possibilities are limited to 50 straight ringers. The cancel game, on the other hand, can run to 51 or 151 or 1051 ringers, or anything without limit. That is the relish of horseshoe pitching. New ringer and other records are possible to be made all the time. Some record is eclipsed about every year in the sparkling cancel game. Players under National rules can reach for the stars to infinity.

To go into history, perhaps the first real booster of the non-cancel idea was D. J. Cowden of Iowa. D. J. was most sincere about it and sent me and others reams of writing in favor of it some twenty years ago. DeeJay could not seem to hear contrary expression on it. And I'll say for Mr. Cowden's credit that I believe he was the greatest booster who ever lived, for horseshoes. The pro-countallers of today could give due credit and honor to him. May he rest in peace.

The National Association has never advocated the count-all non-cancel system of pitching horseshoes, but we understand another organization does do this. The NHPA tolerates it. As Secretary Archie Gregson says, "If we want to use Count-All—O.K., they have that privilege. If they want to handicap—OK, they have that privilege."

The success and growth of The Game lies not so much in the Method of Play but in the Promotion of our sport. If today's cogent Cowdens and energetic workers for the Count-all system would back up and promote The Game, and not try to drag down and injure the NHPA and the official national authority, they would do as much for the advance of horseshoes in general as they are now doing for any special system they favor. They could make the NHPA flourish and grow apace. Moreover, what enhancement and benefit could come from a real spirit of Good Will for the National? Any club's activity and prosperity depends on a live wire personality which Archie G. calls their "spark plug." "It's not the big pitchers that make a club—it's the people that are in it and the amount of effort they put out."

"All alive for '55." That's a good pitch of Tony Brennan. Those Illinoyans are illustrious pitchers anyway.

(Asst. Editor's Note—Sorry Charlie but good old Brooklyn, N. Y. claims Tony as a resident. He is only attending school in Chicago.)

Exhortation—Let's help Jake and Co. with subscriptions. While some complain of how dead the game is, they should remember that it would be far more dead than it is if it were not for Jake's little magazine. Blessum.

Today's Aside: Each town in Maine should have its main street named Main St. Everywhere every main street should be named Main St.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

By HOWARD WHITE

Here are the results of the New Hampshire State Horseshoe Pitching Championship. Howard White of Portsmouth won the New Hampshire State Horseshoe Pitching Championship Sunday, September 26 at the Badbury Fair by defeating the 1953 champion, James Quyetie of Dover in the best six out of eleven games. The Championship series went only eight games as White won his quota early. The scores were as follows: 51—21, 50—16, 51—49, 50—39, 47—50, 51—41, 42—53, 52—35. Edward Meserve of Somersworth won the Class "B" Championship as he took all six matches from the other players in a field of seven. Two expensive trophies were given the winners.

A week later on Oct. 2, Howard White of Portsmouth won the Rockingham County Open Horseshoe Pitching Championship at Deerfield Fair, Saturday afternoon. Everett Levitt of Manchester was in second place.

William Newbury of West Reabody, Massachusetts won the Junior Championship.

A large crowd of fair goers were on hand to see the dozen players put on a fine show.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH HORSESHOE PITCHING?

Have you ever tried to figure out just why it is that even though horseshoe pitching has become more and more popular with the players it still lacks spectator appeal? I think it is simply because the spectator doesn't know what is going on. He watches a tournament in progress and all he sees is a bunch of fellows tossing horseshoes back and forth. He may be fascinated, for a while, by the number of ringers that are being scored (not by me) but he soon becomes bored and wanders off.

Horseshoe pitching will never amount to much unless something is done to make it interesting for the spectator. A good hard fought game, played by two evenly matched players, can become very exciting as any pitcher knows. If we can devise some way of making the spectator experience and enjoy this excitement I am sure that our sport will soon become much more popular.

Last summer a friend of mine (I still have a few) accompanied me to one of our tournaments, the first one he had ever seen. He told me later that the only thing that kept him from being bored to death was the fact that he was busy keeping score for us.

As it was he enjoyed the tournament because he knew what was happening at all times. And so it seems to me that, even though we do post a notice of the progress of each player after each round of play, this is not enough to hold the interest of the spectators. We must figure out some way of announcing the pitch by pitch progress of the games, especially the important games during the final rounds of play. This isn't going to be easy. We can't even get enough score keepers most of the time. However something must be done or we may as well resign ourselves to the fact that horseshoe pitching will never progress much further than it has at present.

By DR. S. BERMAN

The lack of adequate publicity has held back the progress of horse-shoe pitching as much as any other single factor. The National organization needs a publicity man; someone to promote, organize and arrange for sponsors of tournaments. Women's professional golf got into the BIG TIME since 1946 merely by hiring a good publicity man.

Our National dues should be raised to at least $5.00 per year in order to have some money to hire a good man for this purpose. After he promotes and organizes things, his salary could then come from a percentage of the income from various tournaments, etc.

Guy Zimmerman's picture appeared in a recent copy of Sports Illustrated. That was the first bit of coast to coast publicity we received in a long time. Next year the results of the World Tournament could appear in Sports Illustrated if we had a good publicity man.

"You Asked For It," a T.V. program, had Isais on their program about two years ago. The National Horseshoe Pitchers Association should now arrange to have Ted Allen, Dale Dixon or Guy Zimmerman on T.V.'s "What's My Line." Fifty million people watch the program. Ted Allen as a professional horseshoe pitcher and Dale Dixon as a manufacturer of horseshoes (not for horses). Many companies, such as Schenleys' Dutch Masters cigars, Bristow Myers Co., Schaefer's Brewery, etc., use horseshoes in their ads. A good publicity man could get a champion pitcher into some of their ads.

NEW YORK

By FRED LUGO

New York's tournament sponsored by the New York Daily Mirror and Parks Department had more than 2,700 contestants. A record.

Lacking ink, the games were held almost in private—not a single poster telling interested New Yorkers that the contest was on. Old-timers, accustomed to seeing the games after dinner, only had the privilege to witness distribution of four fine watches to the winners.

Examining the reason for the very large number of participants, here is what I found:

1. By the kind of shoes the Department keeps, shows they know very little about the game. The other sponsor the Daily Mirror has not even shoes!

2. The game was played unlawfully. (Sporting events are not permitted before 2 P.M. on Sundays.)

Obviously, the prizes were the only factors that brought the large number of players. Here is a suggestion to the various Horseshoe Clubs to put up affair for the sole purpose of money raising for prizes. Follow this practice and the game will flourish again.

TEXAS

By B. E. SIPPLE

Here are the results (not too late I hope) for the annual State Tournament of the Association of Horseshoe Pitchers of Texas. This was held at Amarillo as part of the Tri-State Fair on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 23, 24, 25 under the sponsorship of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce. We received a tremendous publicity job from Mr. Al Hall of the Globe News and the local radio and television station. A sportsmanship trophy was given by the Globe News to Mr. Si Clayton, the dean of horseshoe pitchers in Texas for building the courts and generally making himself usefull at all times. We also held election of officers with the following results: J. Gordon Burch, 822 S. Magee St., Borger, president; P. D. Riley, 1911 Alice St., Amarillo, vice president; B. E. Sipple, 1836 Matamoras St., Houston, secretary-treasurer.

All contestants participating received a years subscription to The Horseshoe Pitcher.

The qualifying round was held on Thursday, September 23, each contestant pitching 100 shoes.

N. C. Port of Santa Monica, Cal. wants to know what the shortest twenty-one point game for partners (four men) every played? He says each man threw only eight shoes a piece and wound up with a score of twenty-one to nine. Anybody know?

Word comes from Missouri that Earl Winston, of LaMonte, Mo. had a couple of his fingers on his right hand caught in a combine and it may stop him from pitching. All you who have attended the World Championship games at Murray, Utah, know him. Here's hoping for a full recovery, but FAST.
